THE CABOT CREOSOTE SHINGLE STAINS

... that soft, artistic coloring effect so well adapted to houses of modern style of architecture on which shingles are largely used. It may be of interest to know that Mr. A. R. Emerson, the preeminent among Eastern architects for the beauty of his seaside and suburban work, is specifying these stains on all his work. They give effects that can be got in no other way and harmonize well with the landscape, while they are durable and preserve the wood, costing half the price of lead and oil. AGENT FOR

The Advance Threshing Machinery.

The best and fastest thresher in America, and a machine that stands without a rival. The ADVANCE Thresher has NEVER been REPLACED by any other machine on the Coast, but has replaced several others that HAVE FAILED to fill WARRANTEE. Why get some OLD STYLE machine because it is cheap when you can get an ADVANCE on the start and do good work in any kind of grain. You do not have to cut and try with the ADVANCE, but start your power, then commence threshing at once. I take the liberty of referring you to the following parties owning ADVANCE Threshers (without their knowledge): Dr. H. A. Davis, Harrisburg, after wasting most of the season trying to run a cheap machine, bought an ADVANCE and averaged 2206 bushels per day. M. F. White & Co., Dixie, same experience, but after getting an ADVANCE averaged 2046 bushels per day. Knox Bros., Albany, with a little 28-inch machine averaged 1650½ bushels per day. Henry T. Bold, Spangle, writes, after trying a —— machine the best part of the season bought an ADVANCE. Was then able to run without a blacksmith and carpenter shop. The ENGINE is guaranteed to pull more than any other, and will outtravel all others on the road. If you hear any loud boasts, please tell the parties the ADVANCE THRESHER and ENGINE are sold on their merits entirely. And I am willing to prove all I claim in any field at any time. Do not be humbugged by buying any machine until you see the ADVANCE. I also handle steam-fitting goods iron pipe, laundry machinery and many other specialties. Send for catalogue of what you want.

BREAKFAST.

"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition and by a careful application of the fine properties of well selected Cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavored beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a properly nourished frame."—Civil Service Gazette.

SEATTLE NEEDS HELP

An Official Statement by the Relief Committee.

TOO MUCH CAN NOT BE RAISED.

The Withdrawal of the Militia Followed by Lawless Scenes.

THE TROOPS CHARGE ON THE MOB.

Some of the Safes Stood the Test, and Others Failed—Resumption of Business—Scenes in the Relief Headquarters.

SEATTLE, June 11.—A careful canvass reveals the situation in this city to be as follows: The business men are almost entirely without store rooms, but are putting up tents in which they will be able to dispose of their wares until more suitable quarters can be erected. This element of our citizens are abundantly able to care for themselves.

There are a large number of people in the city, including clerks, etc., with and without families, who have lost their all, and a large number of persons also who are destitute and without food or shelter, except what is given them. These people are being cared for the best way possible, but as it will be some months before they can be supplied with houses, any contribution in the shape of bedding, food and household goods of all kinds will be most acceptable.

A labor bureau is being organized, and it is only a question of a few days until all who want can find work. Those who have no visible means of support, and who will not work will be ordered to leave the city, and if they don't, will be arrested and summarily dealt with.

Restaurants are starting up all over the city, and those who have money can find food, plain though it may be. The city will be rebuilt at once, on a grander and better scale than ever. Contracts have already been let for numbers of large brick buildings, and inside of one year Seattle will doubtless be a better and greater city than before.

The relief committee has full charge of all contributions, which will be used in the best manner possible.

Quite an amount of funds will be required to tide us over, but liberal donations of money, which are being gratefully received, will enable us to relieve the most needy.

The weather is good, and will prevent much suffering to those who are without shelter.

The gratitude of Seattle to those fellow countrymen who have been so liberal to her in her suffering, is unbounded, and will never be forgotten.

J. R. LEWIS,
Chairman Relief Committee.

AN ERROR BY THE MAYOR.

When The Militia Were Withdrawn The Mob Took Possession.

SEATTLE, June 11.—It was decided this morning by Mayor Moran that the militia could be withdrawn, as they are entirely worn out by their arduous duties, and many militia men are becoming anxious to return home and care for their business interests. The city was placed in charge of the police, and the militia was, for the time, released from duty.

The error of such a course was quickly demonstrated. As soon as it was found that the militia was off duty, hundreds of people began to flock into the burnt district and dig into the ruins. The police tried to combat the movement and drive the crowd out, but were utterly unable to accomplish anything. Some toughs found some whisky in the vicinity of A. P. Hotaling & Co.'s late wholesale liquor house, and they broke open the barrels and began to imbibe freely. The police tried to drive them away, but could do nothing.

Then Mayor Moran saw the mistake of withdrawing the guard, and he appealed to Colonel Haines to drive out the mob and restore protection over the burnt district. Two details of troops were promptly made, and one entered the district from the north and the other from the south. They fixed bayonets, and throwing out skirmishers, advanced toward each other on quick time.

The crowd paid no attention to the skirmishers, but when the military advanced with fixed bayonets great consternation prevailed amongst the toughs, and they fairly flew for safety.

The National Guard is again in charge of the city. How long their services will be needed can not be guessed.

The question of protection against lawlessness is not less grave than that of relief for the poor and needy. There are many many who will doubtless be dependent upon public charity for months, and it is desired that some definite course be now taken for their benefit. While the relief committees have made no direct appeal for pecuniary help, it seems now that such a course may finally be adopted. Money, however, is pouring in without solicitation. Word was received to-day from San Francisco that ten thousand dollars was at the disposal of the people of Seattle, and Virginia City, Nevada, has placed four thousand to the credit of the relief committee in a San Francisco bank. Olympia sent one thousand to-day, and cities from all over the Pacific coast are being heard from. Individual contributions all over the United States have been heavy.

The sound of the hammer and saw and trowel is heard on every hand. Merchants are erecting tents for temporary business purposes all over the city, and it will not be long before every business of any considerable note is located somewhere.

The Post Intelligencer will to-morrow morning publish a list of proposed new buildings that, if erected as announced, insures a city that will more than doubly discount the old Seattle.

INCIDENTS OF THE DAY.

Glimpses of the Burnt District, and Scenes in the Relief Tents.

SEATTLE, June 11.—A German named Arh went insane at the relief headquarters this morning, while eating. He was a laborer, and had seen his effects burned up in the fire.

It is probable that the Tacoma guard will be relieved to-morrow, and return home on Thursday. It was thought their services could be dispensed with to-day, but the moment the guards were taken off, the crowds rushed into the burned district and they were again put on duty.

The opening of the safes to-day showed that some were worthless and others first-class in every respect. The large safe of the Frisch Brothers was opened. It was full of gold and silver watches, jewelry and diamonds. Everything was all right—except having been somewhat sweated. The safe was in a hot fire, as it had been warped and burned badly on the outside. The same kind of safe was in Toklas & Singerman's San Francisco store. Everything in that safe was destroyed, but the agent says the safe was not locked when the fire struck the building.

The only street car line running is the Electric road, and the cars are packed with people going to and from Lake Union and Queen Anne town.

Workmen are busy trying to get the Front street and the Mill and Jackson street lines in running order.

Great inconvenience is experienced at the wharf where the steamboats land. The hill is so steep at that point that it is almost impossible to get a team to the top, and passengers wade through dust a half foot deep.

The fire department of the city, which was burnt out of house and home, have quartered their apparatus under the spreading branches of two large maple trees on Third street, opposite the Tacoma relief tents. The hard-worked firemen were lying asleep around the grass to-day, as most of their labor of quenching the fire in the debris is over.

Men are at work among the ruins in all directions. I saw a squad of laborers digging out foundations on spaces in soil that was actually hot to the touch. Tents are going up all over the upper portion of the town, and but a few in the burnt district. It looks as if the people were determined to put up substantial buildings there.

Canvas signs are innumerable, and merchants who did a business of hundreds of thousands of dollars a year, are located in canvas houses sixteen by twenty.

One of the pleasing features of life in the big armory building, where the soldiers are located, and where the Seattle relief committee is feeding the hungry, is the singing and playing of the piano by the ladies, to wear off the monotony. While hundreds are at the tables getting their meals in one part of the hall, and the soldiers are falling in line to march to relieve their comrades in another, the sweet strains of a familiar song, accompanied by music, are heard, followed by the applause of the listeners. Many of those in the kitchen, and waiting on the tables, are ladies of the best families of Seattle. I saw a lady come in to-day who was carrying on a small millinery business and doing well. She had lost everything, with no insurance, and had actually gone hungry for two days rather than come where all are welcome, to get something to eat.

The Tacoma committeemen have been relieved from time to time by their friends from that city. Everything works smoothly in their two tents, and the waiters of the old Occidental hotel, who are at work there, call it the "New Occidental." Order is fast coming out of chaos, and from the amount of subscriptions coming in many of the most unfortunate business people will be enabled to start afresh.

Several Tacoma ladies paid a visit to the armory building to-day to see relatives and friends in the Tacoma guard. "Come and lunch with us," said the ladies of the Seattle committee. "We have a special table which we call the Tacoma table. We will never forget the people of Tacoma." Tears started in the eyes of the visitors.

The east side of Second street resembles a great country fair. Tents are going up in the front yards of residences that set back from the sidewalk of that thoroughfare, and the crowds of people are so dense that one can scarcely get along. The white tents against the blackened background of the destroyed business center present a picturesque and sad scene notwithstanding the bustle of business activity.

It is the universal sentiment on all sides that the Seattleites are plucky people, and deserve to succeed. The absence of any liquor saloon tents is noted. The Stewart Holmes Drug Company have opened a big tent on Second street stocked it with drugs, and call it "The Phoenix Drugstore."

C. M. B.

SHALL THE STREETS BE CHANGED?

There is Considerable Opposition, and a Question of Legality.

SEATTLE, June 11.—The council has determined upon extensive improvement and widening of the streets of the city, and held a meeting to-night for the purpose of adopting the replat submitted by a committee of citizens. Individual property owners had interposed considerable objection to carrying out the plan in its fullest extent, but doubtless the council would have adopted it, in the main features, had not the point been raised to-night that the city cannot increase the indebtedness necessary for the payment of condemned property. Adjournment was taken till to-morrow night, when an opinion as to legality of the proposition will be given by the city attorney. Before the meeting adjourned, very complimentary resolutions relating specially to the great generosity of the people of Tacoma for their prompt aid in the great calamity were passed. About fifty insurance men are in the city adjusting losses.

The promptness with which the fire insurance companies who suffered losses in the fire are making adjustments and issuing checks is meeting with the commendation of the local press. The following, from the Post-Intelligencer, concerning one of the Portland local companies, is sufficiently explanatory:

"Two representatives of the Pacific Fire Insurance Company, of Portland, Or., arrived on Saturday morning, and at once proceeded to adjust the company's losses. Mr. J. T. Armstrong received a check in full payment of his loss before noon, which was probably the earliest payment made by any of the companies. Several other losses were paid later in the day. This prompt action on the part of the Portland local is an example that should be followed by the other companies interested."

All the restaurants are doing a rushing business and the few hotels are embarrassed by applications for rooms.

An unknown man was this morning found in an unconscious condition on Union street. He was brought to the Armory, where it was found that he had taken a dose of laudanum. He died there. An inquest will be held to-morrow.

A statement of the losses in the fire can probably be furnished to-morrow. Many workmen have been engaged to-night in blowing down the walls of ruins that were yet standing.

To-day a skeleton of a human hand was found in the ashes at the San Francisco store. It is doubtless a part of the remains of Fireman Derby, who lost his life during the fire.

Part of the queue of a Chinaman, with one of the vertebrae, was found to-day, at Wah Chung's store on Third street. The bone of a skeleton was dug up back of the Eureka house. It is thought to have been a Chinese cook employed there.

RELIEF MEASURES.

San Francisco Sends Ten Thousand Dollars, and Has More, if Needed.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 11.—The Johnstown relief committee met for the purpose of considering the proposition to divert some of the funds collected for the Johnstown sufferers for the relief of the people of Seattle.

J. R. Stetson moved that $10,000 of the fund, which amounts to over $60,000, be sent to the relief of Seattle, and more, if necessary. He said the people there are our friends and neighbors, connected with us socially and commercially.

Louis Sloss, treasurer of the committee, wanted the motion amended so as to eliminate the words "more, if necessary," so that the responsibility of sending more would not be placed on the executive committee.

Alexander Montgomery objected to diverting the sum. He had subscribed for the relief of the Pennsylvania people and he wanted that money sent there. He was willing to subscribe to a separate Seattle fund.

General Houghton thought that $15,000 should be sent to Seattle.

Mr. Carrick wanted to send $20,000.

C. L. Taylor, chairman of the executive committee, thought $10,000 should be sent to Seattle at once.

General Gibbs, who subscribed $1000 to the fund, thought at least $10,000 should be sent to Seattle.

Captain Goodall thought one-third of the gross subscriptions should go to Seattle.

Governor Waterman was of the same opinion, and asked that about $30,000 more should be collected.

After further discussion the motion to send Seattle $10,000 more if necessary, was carried unanimously.

AT HELENA.

HELENA, June 11.—The Thalia Society of this city propose giving an entertainment at Harmonia hall on Thursday evening next, for the benefit of the sufferers by the Seattle fire.

FROM SAN DIEGO.

SAN DIEGO, June 11.—Four hundred and eighteen dollars was sent the Seattle fire sufferers from this city to-day.

ASSISTANCE FROM SAN FRANCISCO.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 11.—Ten thousand dollars of the money collected for the Johnstown sufferers was sent to Seattle to-day. Over $70,000 have been raised altogether for both points.

OLYMPIA'S GIFT.

OLYMPIA, June 11.—The city council last evening appropriated $500 for the relief of the Seattle sufferers, and an additional $500 has been subscribed on the outside.

THE WAGON KINGS TO THE RESCUE.

A Contribution of $500 From the Studebaker Bros. Manufacturing Company.

SEATTLE, June 11.—The great firm of the Studebaker Bros. Manufacturing Company, of South Bend, Ind., the largest manufacturers of vehicles in the world, have telegraphed their substantial aid and sympathy to the Seattle sufferers, through their general Northwestern agents, Messrs. Staver & Walker, of the New Market block, Portland, Or., with branch house at Seattle and all the leading points in the Northwest, as the following telegram indicates:

SOUTH BEND, Ind. June 8, 1889.

Staver & Walker, Seattle, W. T.: We desire to contribute, through you, $500 for the benefit of the Seattle sufferers. Tell the Queen City, heretofore commercially supreme, to remember Chicago and take courage. STUDEBAKER BROS. MFG. CO.

This ready and noble response of the Studebaker Bros. Manufacturing Company will serve to make the name of that company more than ever a household word throughout the Northwest.

With characteristic energy and enterprise, the firm of Staver & Walker recommenced business at Seattle the morning after the fire, with an office on Main street, and were ready to receive orders for the Studebaker wagons and carriages.

MORE TRAINS AND BOATS NEEDED.

Remarkable Increase of the Traffic Between Tacoma and Seattle.

TACOMA, W. T., June 11.—If the Northern Pacific and Puget Sound and Columbia railroad companies want to help along the people of Seattle in a substantial way, they will speedily arrange for one or two additional local trains between Tacoma and Seattle. Many of the steamboats left Seattle to-day overcrowded, and scores were left on the wharves. The passenger traffic between the two cities has grown to enormous proportions since the fire, and the steamboats are not able to carry the passengers or freight either. The steamer Washington, which has been running on the Seattle-Whatcom route, made a trip to Tacoma to-day, instead of lying in Seattle until sailing time for down sound points.

A change was made in the O. R. & N. time-table to-day, the through boat from Victoria leaving Seattle at 2 o'clock and arriving at Tacoma at 4:15 P. M., and the Emma Hayward leaving Seattle at 4 P. M. and leaving Tacoma for Olympia at 9 P. M.

Funeral of Leonard Swett.

CHICAGO, June 11.—The funeral of Leonard Swett took place this afternoon from the Third Presbyterian church. The services were conducted by Drs. Thomas and Withrow. The funeral was largely attended by members of the Chicago bar. Among the honorary pall bearers were Chief Justice Fuller, Judges Scott, Drummond, Gresham and Blodgett, Senators Cullom and Farwell, Mayor Cregier and Governor Fifer.

Run Over by an Engine.

PITTSBURG, June 11.—Three men jumped off a freight train near Suter, Pa., this morning, just as an empty engine passed in the other direction. The three men went under the engine, and two of them were killed while the third was so badly hurt that he cannot live.

SULLIVAN IN JAIL.

The Irish Leader Charged With Complicity in the Murder.

REPORT OF THE CORONER'S JURY

The Crime the Outcome of a Clan-na-Gael Conspiracy.

TWO MEN ARRESTED IN NEW YORK

It is Believed that They May Prove to Be the Men Who Rented the Carlson Cottage—Many Startling Discoveries.

CHICAGO, June 11.—In the Cronin inquest this morning, John Garrith, a saloon-keeper, testified that Detective Coughlin tried to hire a tough character known as "Major Sampson" to slug Dr. Cronin. He wanted him slugged with a baseball bat, and disfigured for life. If it killed him it wouldn't make much difference.

J. D. Haggerty, a railroad clerk, gave testimony that after the trial of Dr. Cronin, Alexander Sullivan told him that Cronin was a scoundrel and a menace to the Irish cause. It was the impression of witness that Sullivan said Cronin should be exterminated. Witness was of the same opinion at that time. LeCaron, who was a friend of Alexander Sullivan, was a member of the committee which tried Cronin. He was introduced to witness by Sullivan at the trial as a man worthy of confidence in the Irish cause.

The police say the arrests made in New York are not important.

WOODRUFF'S CONFESSION.

At the afternoon session a number of witnesses were examined without developing anything of importance.

Then Chief of Police Hubbard was sworn, and told of an interview which he had had with Woodruff, the horse thief. Hubbard asked who was the one who drove the trunk from the Carlson cottage. Woodruff said that he was, and he then described the cottage.

"He said," continued the chief, "that he took the trunk about midnight on May 4. He had been given $25 by two men the day before to do the job. At 11:30 on May 4, two men, according to agreement, rapped on the door of Dinan's stable. He opened the door and let out the horse, with wagon in front, and hitched it to the wagon. They then drove to within 100 feet of the Carlson cottage. He was then told to wait, and the two left him and went into the cottage. They remained there for five minutes and then beckoned him to drive up. He did so, and the two, King and Fairburn, and a third man, came out with a heavy trunk. The third man was P. O. Sullivan. When the trunk was put in the wagon, Sullivan returned to the house. Woodruff, with King and Fairburn, drove on Lincoln avenue to Fulton avenue, and thence to Lincoln park. The men intended to take the trunk and contents, in a boat, out on the lake and sink them, but owing to the bright night and the presence of strangers they changed their minds and drove back. When they reached the man-hole, at Fifty-ninth street, they tried to dump the trunk into it, but failing, they kicked the trunk open, having lost the key, took the body from it and threw it into the man-hole. Woodruff was then told to drive off."

One witness testified that he was sent to England to do active work and was given £4 and a steerage ticket. He came back by steerage passage, without bed clothes or other necessities. He slept, he says, on the "soft side of a plank." He went again and was told to get some one to help him. John J. Maroney was one of the men who was to help him.

He was given $200, and when he got to England, could get no more. He did not use the alias given him by the "triangle," and the intimation in his evidence is that this was what saved him from falling into the hands of the English authorities. He and his partners "performed four operations." The trouble in the Pittsburg convention was told about. An objection was made to Tim Crean and Florence Sullivan being seated as proxies for Father Dorney and Alexander Sullivan.

After the reading of the evidence the jury were asked if they wanted to hear any more witnesses, the coroner saying that he had plenty of witnesses who could give "corroborating evidence." The jury did not want to hear any more, and at 4:40 o'clock retired for deliberation to the coroner's private office.

At 6 o'clock the jury sent out for supper, which was brought in to them.

THE FATAL FEUD.

The chief then produced the papers of Dr. Cronin, which were turned over to him by saloon-keeper Conklin, with whom Cronin lived. Conklin had identified the papers as being in the handwriting of Dr. Cronin, and the coroner read the documents to the jury. It was decided by the jury that the names of the parties mentioned in the documents should not be made public, except those already brought into the case.

The first paper was a telegram from J. D. McMahon, calling on the doctor to meet him at the Windsor hotel, New York, by order of the committee, June 18, 1888.

There was another telegram from J. H. Ronayne calling for the doctor's report on the Sullivan trial. To this the doctor replied, as the copy of the letter showed, that he would vote again as he had voted at the trial.

Then the coroner read the minority report of the trial committee, dated Philadelphia, January 15, 1889, and signed by J. H. McCahey and P. H. Cronin. The report blames Alexander Sullivan for neglecting the family of Mackey Lamasey, and scores Sullivan, Boland and Feeley for excluding C. H. McCarthy from the Boston convention, and also for excluding the delegate of the home organization from the same place. It was alleged that the report of the Boston convention showed a deficit of $18,000, at the instance of Sullivan, when there really was a balance on hand; that $111,000 was improperly spent and not accounted for by the "triangle;" that the men sent to England on "missions" were not sufficiently supplied with money, and that the agent of the "triangle" was responsible for this; that $87,191, drawn from the treasury for "active work," was not used for that purpose by the "triangle," but, with the surplus money, was in the hands of the "triangle's" agent. This report was signed by McCahey and Cronin, with the recommendation that it be printed and sent to each camp.

The coroner then read Dr. Cronin's notes taken at the trial. The objections that Alexander Sullivan made to Dr. Cronin's sitting on the committee were also stated at large, and the fact that they were overruled by the votes of Burns, Rogers, McCahey and Cronin.

THE JURY'S REPORT.

At 10:15 P. M., after being out five hours and a half, the jury came into court and announced reading their verdict. The document was long, but was listened to with marked attention. The following is the full text:

We, the undersigned jury, appointed to make inquiries according to law as to how the body viewed by us came to his death, state as our verdict from the evidence:

First—That the body is that of Patrick Cronin, known as Dr. Cronin.

Second—That his death was not from natural causes, but from violent means.

Third—That said P. H. Cronin was decoyed from his home on North Clark street on the evening of May 4, 1889, by some person or persons to a cottage known as the Carlson cottage, situated at No. 1872 North Ashland avenue, in Lakeview, Cook county, Illinois.

Fourth—That at the said cottage said Cronin was murdered by being beaten on the head with some blunt instrument, or instruments, in the hands of some person, or persons, unknown to us, on the night of said May 4, or between May 4 and May 5, 1889.

Fifth—That the body, after said murder was committed, was placed in a trunk and carried to the edge of the water on a wagon by several persons and by them placed in a catch basin, at the corner of Evanston avenue and Fifty-ninth street, Lakeview, where it was discovered May 27, 1889.

Sixth—That the evidence shows conclusively to all minds that a plot or conspiracy was formed by a number of persons for the purpose of murdering said Cronin and concealing his body, said plot or conspiracy being deliberately contrived and deliberately executed.

Seventh—We have carefully inquired into the relations sustained by said Cronin to other persons while alive, to ascertain if he had had any quarrels or had made enemies of any persons sufficient to cause his murder.

Eighth—It is our judgment that no other persons, or persons, except some of those who are, or who had been members of a certain secret society known as the United Brotherhood, or Clan-na-Gael, had cause to be the instigators or executors of such plot or conspiracy to murder said Cronin.

Ninth—Many of the witnesses testifying in said case have done so with much evident unwillingness, and, we believe, with much mental reservation. We find from the evidence that a number of persons were parties to his plot and conspiracy to murder said Cronin and conceal his body, and should be held to answer to the grand jury. We also believe that other persons were engaged in this plot, or had guilty knowledge of it, and should be apprehended and held to the grand jury.

We further state that this plot or conspiracy in its conception or execution is one of the most foul and brutal that ever came to our knowledge, and we recommend the proper authorities to offer a large reward for the discovery and apprehension of all of those engaged in it in any way. We further state that in our judgment all secret societies whose objects are such as the evidence shows that of the Clan-na-Gael, or United Brotherhood, to be are not in harmony with, and are injurious to America. We hope that the future vigor and vigilance by the police force will more than compensate for the past neglect by a portion of the force in this case.

ALEXANDER SULLIVAN ARRESTED.

He Now Lies in the Chicago Jail Charged With Cronin's Murder.

CHICAGO, June 11.—Immediately after the coroner's jury had reported, it was decided to arrest Alexander Sullivan, and officers were sent to his residence.

Mr. Sullivan's arrest was effected without the slightest trouble. Before the verdict was rendered to the public Coroner Hertz energed for a moment from the room in which the jury was in session. He beckoned to an officer, and handed him a mittimus. The officer with a comrade hurriedly left the hall and jumped into a carriage and drove straight to the residence of Mr. Sullivan on Oak street.

Mr. Sullivan had gone to bed a short time previous, but after the object of the officers was explained and the information given that he would not be permitted any time for any purpose, he promptly and quietly dressed and unhesitatingly accompanied his visitors. The prisoner's demeanor was calm throughout the entire proceedings.

Entering the carriage which had brought the officers, the trio were driven to the office of the county jail. After the usual preliminaries, Mr. Sullivan was taken through the cage into the gloomy prison itself.

The ex-president of the Irish League of America was then immediately incarcerated in cell No. 26 in the tier known as the "murderers' row."

PARTICULARS OF THE ARREST.

CHICAGO, June 11.—The officers, in going to Alexander Sullivan's residence, went to the front door and rang the bell. Henry Brown, Sullivan's clerk, answered the call.

"Is Mr. Sullivan at home?" asked one of the officers.

"He is," was the urbane reply, "but has just retired."

"We are policemen, and have a mittimus for his arrest," rejoined one of the officers, whose name is Henry Palmer.

"All right, come in, gentlemen. I will call him," said Mr. Brown.

The officers and Mr. Brown stepped inside, while another policeman, who had put in an appearance, descended the steps and ran around the block to the rear of the house. Before three minutes had passed no less than half a dozen vehicles had been driven up to the curb near the house and sidewalk, containing more than a score of men.

Mr. Brown lighted the gas in the parlor and invited the officers to take seats.

Mr. Sullivan had evidently heard a part of the conversation between Brown and the officers, for a minute later he thrust his head over the balustrade and said, "All right, I'll dress and come down."

He soon appeared on the stairway attired in his ordinary street dress. Descending to the parlor, he recognized Officer Palmer, whom he had known for years, and extending his hand, said, "Why, how are you, Palmer? You want me, do you?"

"Yes," said Palmer, "I have a mittimus for you. I suppose, though, you are not greatly surprised."

"Well, slightly, at this hour. I was just retiring. Will you not remain in the house all night rather than go to jail?"

"No," said Palmer, "I have not authority to do that."

"All right, Palmer, I'll go with you," said Mr. Sullivan, cheerily.

Then Mr. Sullivan walked to the rear of the hallway, where a female figure could be dimly seen behind the portieres. Placing his arm tenderly around the woman, Mr. Sullivan kissed her and then took up his hat, saying "I am ready."

The street door was opened, and Mr. Brown stepped out first, followed by Officer Palmer. Next came Mr. Sullivan, followed by Officer Frederick. Sullivan descended the steps with a firm tread. His hat was set back slightly on his head, giving a clear view of his smooth shaven face and clear open eyes.

On reaching the sidewalk, Brown took the attorney's arm and entered the carriage with the officers.

By this time the occupants of the adjoining houses and those across the street were awakened, and a dozen windows were opened. Little groups of men and women assembled on the sidewalk, and had scarcely assembled when the sight-seeing ended by the carriage quickly rolling away to the jail, scarcely a mile distant.

A MAN OF GREAT COOLNESS.

Mr. Sullivan's Conduct Bears No Traces of Guilt.

CHICAGO, June 12.—The Daily News' report of the arrest, says: "Mr. Sullivan evinces no impatience or chagrin at Officer Palmer's refusal of his request to remain at the house over night.

"I give you credit, Mr. Sullivan, for being a very cool man," said the veteran detective in a subsequent conversation.

"Well," said Sullivan, "a man with a clear conscience need never worry, and I know of no wrong I have done."

He then donned his overcoat and hat and fed his captors from the house.

The Daily News says the woman who appeared at the head of the stairs, leading to the basement was Sullivan's old housekeeper, who was in a state of great trepidation. Sullivan hastened over to her, and after saying a few words kissed her good-bye.

At the jail office Mr. Sullivan had a pleasant nod of recognition for Night Jailer Furrier and such of newspaper men as he knew.

One ill-mannered reporter confronted him with a great roll of note paper and demanded: "What have you to say?"

"I will say my say in court," was the answer. When further pressed by the same individual, Mr. Sullivan said: "Please have the decency to let me alone."

A moment later the prisoner was conveyed through an iron doorway into the silent cell, and in going in pleasantly bade the by-standers a genial "good night."

TWO MEN ARRESTED IN NEW YORK.

Believed To Be the Mysterious "Williams Brothers" Who Rented the Cottage.

NEW YORK, June 11.—Acting upon instructions from Chicago, Police Inspector Byrnes to-day caused the arrest of John Maroney and Charles McDonald, two men whom he has been shadowing for suspected complicity in the murder of Dr. Cronin. Maroney is 38 years old and claims to be in the city in the dry goods business. McDonald is the same age.

The man Maroney is John D. Maroney, a dry goods merchant. He has been a prominent figure in Irish affairs for many years, especially in the Land League. He often spoke publicly against the use of violence in behalf of Ireland. Very little is known of McDonald.

Both persons were taken before Inspector Byrnes in the afternoon. They denied any knowledge of the crime, and said they had never been to Chicago or its vicinity, but admitted that they were members of the Clan-na-Gael. Immediately after the prisoners' arrest they were taken to the Tombs police court. The prisoners will be held for murder, in accordance with instructions given Inspector Byrnes from Chicago.

An evening paper prints this of Maroney:

"He resided once in Philadelphia, but he was eventually compelled to leave the city, and since that time has been understood to have performed a mission of a private nature in connection with the Clan-na-Gael.

At the occasion of the queen's jubilee, a few years ago, Maroney was one of a number of men who went to England with the funds of the revolutionary organization for the avowed purpose of blowing up several public buildings. Maroney blew up nothing and two of his companions were arrested.

"Maroney has never had any regular business, but has been generally well supplied with money.

"One of the charges made against Sullivan's administration was that $700 of the funds of the Clan-na-Gael went into the men's furnishing business, which Maroney carried on in Philadelphia, and in which he failed.

"Maroney was one of the men who, before Cronin's body was found in the sewer, was the most pronounced in the opinion that the doctor had not met with foul play, but had left Chicago to avoid disgrace resulting from some scandal with which he was professionally connected."

ANOTHER ARREST.

NEW YORK, June 11.—Another arrest was made at 7:30 to-night in connection with the Cronin mystery. The police authorities were reticent, and would only say that the prisoner was arrested on suspicion of being another important person in the case. A mysterious prisoner was locked up at the police headquarters by Inspector Byrnes's detectives to-night at 8 o'clock, who is supposed to be another man to be credited to arrests in the Cronin murder. The man was hustled into the building by the back entrance and locked up. His name is withheld.

WAS HE INSANE?

NEW YORK, June 11.—A short, ruddy complexioned man walked into the Tenth street police station this evening, and blurted out to the sergeant in charge that he was Cronin's murderer. He gave the name of Bryan McLaughlin, of 225 West Fiftieth street, and said that he was by trade a roofer. He was locked up for the night. The police believe that the man is insane.

ARE THEY THE MURDERERS?

CHICAGO, June 11.—To-night information was derived from detective sources that J. J. Maroney, who was arrested in New York to-day, is a member of the Clan-na-Gael executive that is to say, the committee which governs the whole organization, and of which Luke Dillon is a member.

Maroney, it is claimed, has been identified by a salesman as the man who purchased the furniture which first went to Clark street and afterwards to the Carlson cottage. The identification is represented as having been from a cabinet photograph of Maroney.

This same Maroney is claimed, also, to have been identified as the person who rented the cottage.

McDonald, the other New Yorker arrested, was his companion. A witness has been found, it is asserted, who will swear that Maroney and McDonald are the men who posted the letter at Hammond, after the tragedy, telling the Carlsons that the rent would still be forthcoming. Maroney wrote the letter, so it is alleged, and McDonald was seen to leave the train and post it. In fact, the story in a nutshell, is that Maroney and McDonald were the two mysterious "Williams brothers," popularly credited with being the actual persons who took Cronin's life.

OPINIONS OF THE OFFICERS.

Chief of Police Hubbard was asked in regard to the grounds on which McDonald and Maroney were arrested. With regard to the man McDonald, who seems to be the most important of the two prisoners, Hubbard said: "We attach no great importance to the arrest, as all the fellow had to do with the case, so far as we know, is this—he is a well-known New York crook, and was absent from New York at the time of the murder, and we think he was here, but we don't know yet. He cannot or will not tell where he was on May 4, but that does not prove that he murdered Cronin, or had anything to do with the crime."

"It is learned that the Carlsons can identify him as the man who rented the cottage?"

"Bah! Sheer nonsense!"

"And that he was in all probability the man who drove the doctor away."

The chief's reply, though inelegant was expressive—"Rats!"

Luke Dillon, of Philadelphia, on whose information the arrests were made, declined to say what the grounds of the arrests were.

States Attorney Longenecker would talk, however, if Dillon would not. "The men are arrested, and there is nothing to conceal now. Maroney is the man who is suspected of driving the doctor from his office to the Carlson cottage. About the other man, I don't know so much, but we expect to prove that he was in the conspiracy. Maroney is a laborer, I think, and McDonald is a blacksmith. I got this information from Dillon, and we shall learn how much truth there is in it later on."

AFTER MORE EVIDENCE.

NEGAUNEE, Mich., June 11.—Ex-Captain Schnack and Officer Wessler arrived here at noon, and are now awaiting the train to take them to Hancock. It is supposed that they are going there to get evidence in the Cronin affair, Hancock being Coughlin's former home.

IS WALSH IMPLICATED?

The Chicago "Herald" Advances the Theory That He Was a Helper.

CHICAGO, June 12.—The Herald of to-day will advance the theory that John Walsh, for some time known as John Hanley, the famous invincible, had a hand in the murder, and that the assassination was ordered from across the water.

He was seen here at various times until the middle of February. He said nothing about his business.

Walsh, accompanied by Phillip McCarthy, of Chicago, aided in the escape of the Fenians from Australia in the Catalpa in 1867. Walsh was selected for this dangerous task because of his great strength and iron nerve.

When he returned to America he became possessed of the idea that the Irishmen of the world owed him a living, and acted accordingly. From that time to the present he has done no manual work.

Walsh is an athlete. Although nearly 50 years of age, he does not look to be more than 35. He stands 5 feet 11 inches in height and can handle an ordinary man with the greatest of ease.

Walsh was the trusted agent of the Invincibles, and was assigned by them to perform the dangerous work. He made six trips to England.

When the Clan-na-gael passed into the hands of the famous "triangle," Walsh was pressed into the service. Acting, it is said, under their direction Walsh made a protracted visit to Ireland and England, returning with valuable information. While there, he went by the name of John Hanley. There is no record of Walsh's work for the "triangle" in America, but there are numerous stories which associate his name with the disappearance of many men.

A SPECIAL GRAND JURY.

There Will Be No Delay in the Proceedings in the Cronin Case.

CHICAGO, June 11.—This afternoon Judge Shepard ordered a special venire to be issued for twenty-three "good and worthy men," to act as grand jurors.

The proceedings leading up to this result were very brief. The assistant state's attorney secured the attention of the judge and stated that he had been instructed by his superior, Mr. Longenecker, to ask for the calling of a special grand jury. Nothing further was said. The order was at once made out and taken to Sheriff Matson.

The jurors will be impaneled in Judge Shepard's court to-morrow morning.

The assistant state's attorney said to a reporter that the special grand jury was summoned in order that there might be no delay between the ending of the coroner's inquest and the commencement of the grand jury proceedings in the Cronin case.

LEAGUE GAMES.

Cleveland, Pittsburg and New York Among the Winners Yesterday.

INDIANAPOLIS, June 11.—Boyle's pitching was effective until the seventh inning, when the visitors secured three runs and the game. O'Brien was very effective, especially at critical times. Score—Indianapolis, 2; Cleveland, 4. Base hits—Indianapolis, 7; Cleveland, 7. Errors—Indianapolis, 2; Cleveland, 5. Umpire, Fessenden. Batteries—Indianapolis, Boyles and Meyers; Cleveland, O'Brien and Zimmer.

CHICAGO, 2; PITTSBURG, 4.

CHICAGO, June 11.—One of the finest games of the season was played here this afternoon, ten innings being required before the game was decided. Staley's pitching was very effective, and the home team could do nothing with him. Beckley's home-run hit in the tenth inning won the game for the visitors. Score:

Chicago	1	0	2	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	—3

Base hits—Chicago, 3; Pittsburg, 9. Errors—Chicago, 5; Pittsburg, 4. Umpire—Lynch. Batteries—Chicago, Gumbert and Darling; Pittsburg, Staley and Miller.

TWO GAMES AT WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, June 11.—Two games were played here this afternoon, in which the home team won the first game, but lost the second. First game—Score:

Washington	3	2	0	0	0	0	1	0	0	—6
Philadelphia	0	1	0	1	0	1	0	0	0	—3

Base hits—Washington, 14; Philadelphia, 6. Errors—Washington, 7; Philadelphia, 1. Batteries—Washington, Ferson and Mack; Philadelphia, Sanders and Shriver. Second game:

Washington	0	0	0	1	0	0	1	1	2	—5
Philadelphia	0	0	0	2	2	3	0	0	—	—7

Base hits—Washington, 9; Philadelphia, 6. Errors—Washington, 7; Philadelphia, 1. Umpire—Curry. Batteries—Washington, Haddock and Ebright; Philadelphia, Casey and Shriver.

NEW YORK 2, BOSTON 1.

NEW YORK, June 11.—The game this afternoon was another pitchers' contest, and was a magnificent game throughout. New York won the game in the second inning through good team work. Score—New York 2, Boston 1. Base hits—New York 5, Boston 2. Errors—New York 0, Boston 1. Umpire—Barnum. Batteries—New York, Welch and Ewing; Boston, Radbourn and Ganzel.

ST. LOUIS JOCKEY CLUB RACES.

ST. LOUIS, June 11.—The weather was threatening to-day but the attendance was good.

Mile—Irene won, Mollie's Last second, Fanchette third. Time, 1:48¼.

Mile and seventy rods—Girondes won, the Elk second, Lucy P. third. Time, 1:52.

Six furlongs—Lakeview won, Lotion second, Mandolin third. Time, 1:18¾.

Mile and an eighth—Marchmonte won, Comedy second, Los Angeles third. Time, 2:03¾.

PRINTERS IN CONVENTION.

The International Typographical Union Assembles at Denver.

DENVER, June 11.—The thirty-seventh annual convention of the International Typographical Union convened here last night. About 200 delegates were present. After appointing several committees the meeting was adjourned until to-day.

At the opening of to-day's session Mayor Londoner delivered an address of welcome, which was responded to by President Plank, of Indianapolis.

The business of the session was confined to receiving the reports of the president, secretary, treasurer and committee on law, when a recess was taken until to-morrow morning.

The principal subject which seems to agitate the minds of the delegates present is: "What disposition shall be made of the Childs-Drexel fund?" which now amounts to $22,000. Some favor the establishment of an insurance department, others the creation of a widow's fund while an apparent majority favor the establishment of a home for printers. The subject will have a considerable discussion at this meeting.

Postal Notes, Etc.

WASHINGTON, June 11.—The following have been appointed postmasters: Oregon—Lexington, Morrow county, W. B. McAlister, vice George M. Harris removed. Washington Territory—Tuxedo, Whatcom county, J. S. Austin, vice H. A. Judson removed. Idaho—Nampa, Ada county Daniel Bacon, vice George P. Thompson resigned.

The secretary of the treasury has awarded the contract for furnishing provisions for the thirteenth life-saving district for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1891, to Foard & Stokes, of Astoria, Oregon, at $79 per man for the vessels and $43 per man for the stations.

Work of the Sioux Commission.

ROSEBUD, June 11.—At 4 o'clock this afternoon 1028 Indians have signed. Intelligence from other agencies indicates that the success here probably insures a favorable result at the others. There seems to be a general impression that practically the only opposition will be made at Standing Rock.

A State Senator Killed by His Stepson.

CHATTANOOGA, June, 11.—At Dalton, Ga., this morning, Hon. S. E. Fields, state senator, was shot and killed by his stepson, Dennis Taylor, whom he attempted to chastise. Young Taylor was arrested and taken to Dalton. His mother is prostrated with her double sorrow.

A New Line to the Pacific.

NEW YORK, June 11.—The Herald says that a rumor is afloat that the Wisconsin Central and Northern Pacific alliance will probably result in a new line to the Pacific.

STATE AND TERRITORY

The Beardsley Murder Trial Began at Salem.

A TERRIBLE TEMPERANCE LESSON

Ashland to Have $50,000 Water-works—Movements of Villard and Oakes—A Large Sawmill Burned—Etc.

SALEM, June 11.—The trial of O. P. Beardsley, for the murder of E. L. Berryman March 14 last, at Rola, Polk county, commenced this morning, with H. H. Hewitt, district attorney, W. H. Holmes of this city, and N. L. Butler of Dallas fo the prosecution, and Richard Williams of Port and, and Judge J. J. Daly of Dallas, and Tilmon Ford of this city for the defense.

A jury was impaneled in two hours, and is composed of good, reliable, intelligent citizens.

The afternoon was taken up with the examination of the state's witnesses, including Mrs. Berryman, wife of the man killed, her father and other neighbors—fourteen in all. There were very few new facts elicited, the general drift of the testimony being the same as at the preliminary examination.

Willis Jordan, the principal witness to the shooting, testified to-day that he saw Perryman just before the shot was fired, with his body thrown back and arms upraised, the right arm highest. The defense holds that this is in accordance with their claim that Perryman threw a rock at Beardsley before the latter shot.

The crowd in attendance at court is large, but there is no excitement. The defense has a large number of witnesses and will take up all day to-morrow.

The grand jury has been engaged examining the case of W. E. Hawkins, for the murder of F. O. Ogle, May 1, in this city, but no bill has been returned.

A TERRIBLE TEMPERANCE LESSON.

Suicide of an Inebriate Who Had Forfeited His Wife's Affections.

LUTIE, M. T., June 11.—Owing to his drunken habits, T. D. Featherly had estranged his wife's affections and made himself unbearably wretched. He took his own life yesterday afternoon by shooting himself through the heart in his wife's confectionery and fruit store on Granite street. He was for a long time associated with her in the business, but on account of his dissipated habits she was compelled to assume control of it herself. One of the children died three months ago. This bereavement increased his wife's bitterness toward her husband. She held him mainly accountable for the child's death, he being intoxicated and unable to assist in relieving the child's malady.

She applied for a divorce, and he went away, not returning until yesterday, when he sought Mrs. Featherly's store and dwelling to get his personal effects, which he had requested her to get in readiness for removal.

Meeting his wife, the two exchanged a few words when Mrs. Featherly left him to attend upon a customer in the adjoining room. As soon as the desperate man was left alone he committed the rash act.

A letter was found in the suicide's pocket, addressed to his wife, as follows:

I cannot live without you, so I am going to die. Forgive for all the wrongs I have done you. Have me buried beside Eva, and from my home, and that will end all the trouble. Kiss me when I am gone. Your affectionate husband,

T. D. FEATHERLY.

WATER WORKS FOR ASHLAND.

The Citizens Vote in Favor of Bonding the Town for $50,000.

ASHLAND, Or., June 11.—Ashland voted almost unanimously to-day to bond the city for $50,000 for water works. The vote was 245 for bonding to 36 against. A stream of the purest water in Oregon flows directly through the town from a snow bitte ten miles distant, and the water will be piped from a point above and supplied to the whole city. There is abundance of water, and there will be less used through the pipe system than is washed by the open ditches now furnishing the supply. The city will own and control the water works, and will have a supply of pure water second to none in America.

Another enterprise of the season, which is assured, is a cannery, for which a cash bonus of $1500 has been subscribed.

VILLARD AND OAKES.

A Conference in Tacoma, Preparatory to Leaving for Portland.

TACOMA, June 11.—President T. F. Oakes, of the Northern Pacific, arrived here in his special car this morning, accompanied by F. B. Howell and C. S. Mulliken, of New York, and N. C. Thrall, his private secretary. He is registered at the Tacoma.

D. O. Mills, whose son-in-law, Whitelaw Reid, purchased Villard's palace in New York, after the latter's financial downfall some years ago, is also here, and they have had a conference. Mr. Mills is interested in railroad matters in and around Bellingham bay. He will leave on the steamer Ancon, now here, for Alaska to-morrow morning.

The Oakes-Villard combination, including Land Agent Schulze, will leave for Portland this evening at 9 o'clock. One of the party to-day confirmed the report that the Union Pacific road is to come to Tacoma over the Northern Pacific tracks.

A LARGE SAWMILL BURNED.

It Was Valued at About $60,000—No Particulars.

SEATTLE, June 11.—Word was received to-night that the sawmill at Kent had burned to-day. It was a mill of large capacity, and valued at about $60,000. There are no particulars.

FROM OLYMPIA.

The Masonic Grand Lodge in Session—The National Guard—Etc.

OLYMPIA, W. T., June 11.—The Masonic grand lodge met in annual session in the Odd Fellow's temple this morning, all the grand officers but the chaplain and the lecturer being present. A committee on credentials, consisting of Messrs J. P. Tweed, J. A. West, and J. C. Dorr was appointed. This afternoon Grand Master N. S. Porter delivered the annual address, which is said to have been both an interesting and able document.

The present session is probably the largest ever held in Washington territory, and the proceedings are of a most harmonious nature.

The representatives are well provided for all over the city, and are pleased with the beauty of Olympia and the surrounding country.

LOCAL NOTES.

The wife and daughter of Surveyor General Breckenridge, left this morning on a visit to their former home at Lexington, Kentucky.

Thirty-seven cases of guns and ammunition for the use of the national guards at the approaching encampment have been received by Governor Moore. It is thought that for want of sufficient funds to defray the expenses of transportation the Second regiment will have to go into camp East of the mountains, the First regiment going into camp at this place July 5.

Tramps from Seattle are visiting this city, but are advised to go farther West. One hundred and seventy-three passengers came up from Seattle and Tacoma last evening on the Hayward; also 52,000 pounds of freight. This morning the same steamer took out 5800 pounds of fruit.

The case of the territory vs. E. C. Austin and Viola Babcock, on a charge of adultery, was heard with closed doors to-day, and will be submitted to-morrow.

The commencement exercises of the Olympia Collegiate Institute began to-day and to-morrow evening the diplomas will be presented to twenty-two graduates, twelve being ladies.

A Fatal Quarrel.

BUTTE, June 11.—Albert Springer and Howell Thomas got into a quarrel last evening in a saloon over some trivial matter, which terminated in the killing of Springer by Thomas. Thomas fired a 38-calibre revolver at him, the shot taking effect in his left breast. Springer was unmarried. The men in the saloon held the murderer until an officer arrived. This is the second murder since the adjournment of the grand jury, and a special grand jury will undoubtedly be called on these cases.

Coming to Portland.

HELENA, June 11.—The special car "Cataract," containing W. S. Gurne, treasurer of the Great Falls Smelting Co., his son, A. C. Gurne, and C. W. Cromwell, attorney, all from New York, escorted by H. W. Child, went out on the east bound Northern Pacific Express last evening, for a tour. Returning here the latter part of the week, the party will proceed west to Portland and Puget Sound points.

The Montana Medical Law.

BUTTE, Mont., June 11.—The doctors who were indicted for practicing medicine without the proper certificates from the medical board held a consultation and decided to proceed with the trial before Judge DeWolfe without appeal on the demurrer which was overruled on Saturday. The case will be set for this week. It is strongly felt that Judge DeWolfe is, in opinion, against the law as it stands.

SOUTHERN PACIFIC LANDS.

The Reasons Why They Have Not Been Taken Faster in Oregon and California.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 11.—Before leaving for Oregon Sunday night, William H. Mills, land agent for all of the Southern Pacific lands north of Sacramento, including Oregon, was interviewed by a local reporter as to his trip, which interview appears this afternoon.

He said that the object of his departure was to look into the affairs of his land office in Portland. When asked how long he would be away, he said: "I really do not know. There has been a good deal of timber land sold in Oregon lately, and the records will have to be looked into. We have no demand for other lands. The timber land is of such quality that it would naturally create a market, but, despite these timber sales that we have made we have not done a large land business in Oregon."

"How do you account for that?"

"Well the Paris Exposition has a great deal to do with it. Many people who would have come out here this winter and would have bought land have gone to Paris. This is equally true with regard to California land. The sales have not been so large as in other years, and, besides, we are experiencing the reactionary effects of the San Diego and Los Angeles booms. As soon as our Eastern friends learn that it is as cheap to visit Europe as it is to come to California, they will prefer going to the old world instead of coming here. It's only by peculiar demonstration that you can get men to purchase land. As this exposition will give a great many Eastern people knowledge of what the cost of European travel is, I am afraid we shall lose a great deal of our winter immigration. I expect, however, that I shall have very busy times in Portland. The maps will have to be very carefully gone over."

SAN FRANCISCO COAL MARKET.

A Rise in Prices Anticipated—The Effect of the Seattle Fire.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 11.—An evening paper says: The present outlook for the coal market is indicative of a rise of at least 50 cents a ton on all foreign and domestic coals within the next week.

The principal reason for the rise in the prices of local coal is due to the Seattle fire. The destruction of the coal bunkers there means the curtailment of the shipment of domestic coal, and there will probably not be any shipments made from that quarter for several weeks.

The daily consumption of coal here is figured at three thousand tons, and the supplies on hand at present are inadequate to the demand, and the fire at Seattle will make a difference of thirty thousand tons in the market supply.

The main source of supplies at present is from Australia.

The fire also interfered with the shipments to this port from the Black Diamond mine, and on top of this comes the announcement that Nanaimo coal has advanced 25 cents and that a still further advance is expected.

The Pacific Improvement Company's steamer San Mateo arrived from Nanaimo this morning with one of the largest cargoes of coal ever brought to this port, 4277 tons.

SENATOR SABIN'S DIVORCE.

A Sensation Created in Society Circles by the Announcement.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 11.—A special from Washington says: The announcement that ex-United States Senator Sabin had privately procured a divorce from his wife created a genuine sensation in social circles in this city.

Although a rumor has been in circulation here for the past three months that there had been some difficulty between them, it was talked about among only a small and limited number of their Western friends, and all of them had hoped that the estrangement would be only temporary.

The fact, however, that Sabin had been instrumental in placing his wife under restraint was known and deeply lamented by some people, among whom were several of the senator's late colleagues in the senate.

The Sabins were welcome guests everywhere, and particularly so at the White House during the administrations of Arthur and Cleveland. Mrs. Cleveland and her mother were especially friendly to Mrs. Sabin.

A SAD ACCIDENT.

A Young Lady Shot and Instantly Killed on Catalina Island.

LOS ANGELES, June 11.—News comes from Catalina Island, about twenty miles off the coast, that a shocking accident occurred there yesterday.

Miss Eva Dock, 17 years of age, had been spending some time on the island with her parents. On the island there is a shooting gallery kept by C. E. Jones, and Miss Eva became a frequent visitor and an excellent shot. She was in the gallery, and Jones was cleaning the guns while she was shooting. She laid down the gun, thinking that she had fired it. He took it up to clean it and accidentally discharged it. She gave a sigh and sank dead to the floor, the bullet having struck so vital a part that she never knew what had happened.

There was great indignation among the people on the island at Jones's carelessness. The girl's mother was crazed with grief and her father was utterly prostrated.

CALIFORNIA NEWS ITEMS.

Personal and General Notes.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 11.—Jack Dempsey, the middle weight pugilist of the world, was expected to leave this evening for Portland. He will visit his wife before going into training for his match with the "Marine" in August.

Colonel Fred Crocker expects to leave for Vancouver island Saturday next to inspect certain coal mines in British Columbia, in which the Southern Pacific Company is interested.

A. C. Bassett, superintendent of the coast division of the Southern Pacific, will leave for the Yellowstone Park in a day or two.

Thomas McKnight, freight agent of the Northern Pacific, returned from Portland to-day.

To-morrow an excursion party leaves for the East via the Northern Pacific and the Yellowstone, numbering about seventy people, and a second party goes East via Salt Lake and the Denver & Rio Grande.

Wheat and Salmon Shipments.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 11.—During the month of May the shipments of canned salmon from San Francisco by sea embraced 154,000 cases to England, 540 cases to the East Indies and 158 cases to the Islands of the Pacific.

There were also 663 packages of salted salmon exported from this port in the same month, mostly to Honolulu.

A cargo of 1800 tons of wheat was cleared from this port yesterday for Rio de Janeiro. This is the third cargo for the current cereal year, and three more vessels are under engagement to follow. The first two cargoes arrived out some time ago. This is the first Pacific coast wheat sent to Brazil in many years.

A Frightful Fall to Death.

FELTON, June 11.—Two young men, while in a boat on the San Lorenzo river, about one mile from this place, came on to the body of a drowned man. They reported to the coroner, who ordered the body brought to town.

The man was recognized as James Casey, the foreman on the Walter ranch. He was about 25 years of age.

It appears that he left Felton on the evening of the 6th, and must have missed the trail, as he was found in the river at the foot of an eighty-foot bluff, with his neck broken.

A Suspicious Case.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 11.—The body of Mrs. Theresa Honey, who died six months ago, was exhumed from her grave in the Odd Fellows' cemetery by order of the coroner to-day, and after a post mortem examination, the vital organs were removed and given to a chemist for inspection.

The deceased was personally friendly with one W. Warneke, to whom she left all of her property, valued at from $16,000 to $20,000, and it has been claimed by a number of her relatives that Warneke poisoned her.

A Peculiar Pardon.

SACRAMENTO, June 11.—A few days ago at San Quentin penitentiary, a prisoner named William Neason, who had been sentenced for fifteen years for a burglary committed at San Diego, saw a man fall into the bay. The prisoner gave alarm, and the drowning man was saved.

He rewarded the prisoner by giving him a $20 piece. Neason contributed the money to the Johnstown sufferers. Hearing of this Governor Waterman granted a pardon to Neason. He had three years more to serve.

Killed by the Cars.

STOCKTON Cal., June 11.—John Shea, a blacksmith, was killed at Tracy this morning by the train for San Francisco.

He was walking on the track and it is supposed he saw the train, but thought it would take the track of the overland train and stepped on to the west track. The whistle sounded several times before he was struck. The engine broke his leg and crushed in the back of his head, killing him instantly. The deceased leaves a family.

Arrival of the Bertha From Kodiak.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 11.—The steamer Bertha arrived in port last night, ten days from Kodiak, with 8655 cases of salmon for the packing company. Among her passengers were Captain Cushman and the mate and steward of the bark Lizzie Williams, which was wrecked on the 17th of last April. The rest of the crew are on Kodiak island, where they are working for the owners of the Lizzie Williams.

The Excursion to Alaska.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 11.—A party of sixty-six excursionists left this city to-day on the Raymond-Whitcomb trip to Alaska. Charles H. Wilson and F. T. Whitcomb are in charge of the excursionists, who will leave Tacoma on the specially chartered steamer Corona, June 17.

Of the sixty-six travelers, six are San Franciscans. All of the others are from the East.

Departed—Str Oregon, Astoria; ship Yosemite, Tacoma.

California Press Association.

SAN DIEGO, June 11.—A meeting of the representatives of the Southern California Press Association was held here to-day. Arrangements were made for the annual meeting to be held here July 9. The session will last for three days.

Stage Costumes and Scenery Burned.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 11.—Sparks from an engine set fire to a baggage car at Elko, Nevada, yesterday, and fifteen hundred dollars worth of costumes and scenery belonging to a theatrical troupe that will appear at the Grand Opera House here next week were destroyed.

Wedding of Mrs. Stanford's Sister.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 11.—The marriage of Miss A. M. Lathrop, sister of Mrs. Leland Stanford, to David Hewes, of this city, was celebrated at noon to-day at the residence of Senator Stanford. The couple go to San Jose to-day, and leave for the East Thursday in Senator Stanford's private car.

Killed in a Sewer.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 11.—Joseph Macks, an Italian, aged 26, was killed this afternoon on Valencia street in an excavation for a new sewer. The banks caved in while the workmen were in it. All escaped except Macks.

Arrest of a Suspected Murderer.

TULARE, June 10.—Marshal Murray of this place has arrested a man near here, supposed to be W. W. Rice, who is wanted in Lincoln county, Illinois, for murder. He denies guilt, but says he knows about the murder.

The Sons of Veterans.

SACRAMENTO, June 11.—The session of the third annual encampment of the California Division of the Sons of Veterans was concluded this evening.

California Teachers Bound for the East.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 11.—Eight cars of California schoolteachers left for the East to-day via the Union Pacific and Wabash railways.

THE SAMOAN TREATY.

The Objections Are Not Serious Enough to Defeat Its Ratification.

LONDON, June 11.—The Post's Berlin correspondent says there is no serious difference of opinion in Washington regarding the Samoan treaty, and what difference exists is solely about minor details. The correspondent adds that the chief principles are settled, and the Americans are satisfied, and expresses confidence that the United States senate will ratify the treaty.

The conference will reassemble Thursday.

Tickets to and From Europe.

GREAT DAMAGE IN NEW HAMPSHIRE.

DOVER, N. H., June 11.—Reports come in to-day from all directions of damage done by yesterday's storms at South Berwick. Among others, Berwick academy, erected in 1792, was struck by lightning, the bolt entering the schoolroom and affecting fifty-three scholars. Three girls were prostrated, and unconscious for hours, while only one scholar was able to go out for medical aid.

DR. DARRIN RETURNED.

What the Astoria Pioneer Thinks of Him.

Dr. Darrin's sojourn in Astoria as expired and he has returned to the head office in Portland, where he is permanently located.

The visit of Dr. Darrin to Astoria is filled with interest in many particulars. When he first arrived he advertised very extensively, and the cry went up that there was some catch in it. Then he cured one case that was considered hopeless, and a surprise was felt. After that the very worst cases in existence were given him as a test by all doubters. If he cures this one, I will believe it, the doubters echoed, and after treatment the patient was as sound as a dollar. Then they gave him another test case, and another, and so on, but all with the same result. He effected a cure in nearly every instance. Then the doctor's terrible rush of patients began, and the stream has been growing larger every day, numbering some of the best people in the state. A visit to the offices of Drs. Darrin is certainly a curiosity as well as a wonder. Patients are carried one day, and in a week's time, instead of being carried there, they walk up the stairs as sprightly as young boys. What there is about them is certainly mysterious, for they have performed most remarkable cures, as the testimonials that we have heretofore published have proved, and we give the names of the following ar further proof:

Andrew Anderson, Port Townsend, W. T., cross eyed from paralysis of the outer muscles of the eye; cured by one operation.

F. P. Sawtell, Independence, W. T., dyspepsia and kidney complaint, pronounced Bright's disease by some physicians; restored.

Mrs. L. K. Harman's son, of Vancouver, W. T., cured of a loathsome case of catarrh and polypus of the nose; also her daughter of a tumor.

C. Hiese, seven miles west of Fulton, Or., liver and kidney trouble; dizziness and pains over the whole system; restored to health.

Charles Brugger, Reedville, Or., almost total blindness from the effects of measles; restored after other doctors said he was past cure.

Mrs. L. Matteson, East Portland, Or., catarrh, bronchitis, nervousness and sleepless nights and loss of flesh; cured and gained twelve pounds.

Mrs. A. J. Quentel, 1361 Railroad street, Tacoma, W. T., stoppage of tear duct, causing tears to overflow down the cheeks; cured by one operation.

Mrs. Mevie Gelfort, Seattle, W. T., boy 5 years old, deaf since 16 months old, discharging ears and catarrh; entirely cured after several treatments.

The Doctor's Place of Business.

Dr. Darrin can be consulted free at 235 Fifth street, corner of Main, Portland. Office hours, from 10 to 5 o'clock daily; evenings, 7 to 8; Sundays, 10 to 12. All curable chronic diseases, loss of manhood, blood taints, syphilis, gleet, gonorrhœa, stricture, spermatorrhœa, seminal weakness, or loss of desire of sexual power, in man or woman, catarrh and deafness, are confidentially and successfully treated. Cures of private diseases guaranteed, and never published in the papers. Circulars sent free. Most cases can receive home treatment after a visit to the doctor's office.

The doctor has no representatives practicing in the state, as has recently been discovered in Benton county. All persons taking the name of Dr. Darrin are frauds.

ALLEGED TRAIN WRECKERS.

Merrick and Black On Trial—James Slee Files His Bond.

Pickerel, the Horse Thief, Convicted—Appeal To Be Heard—Turk vs. Kelly—Police Court Proceedings—Notes.

Merrick and Black, charged with attempting to wreck a train on the Oregon Short Line last fall, by placing dynamite on the track, were on trial in the United States circuit court yesterday. The men were held on a charge of obstructing the United States mails, and there is also a charge of forgery against them.

POLICE COURT.

W. M. Holmes, drunk, fined $5; Paul Deane pleaded guilty to fighting in "one sense." That "sense" was sufficient and he was fined $20; John B. Cain, arrested on charge of roaming the streets after midnight, was fined $10.

Mary Buckley and Emma Friskorn, who were arrested Sunday evening on a charge of vagrancy, entered a plea of not guilty and were put on trial. Their defense was not such as to enlist much sympathy from the court and they were given thirty days in the city jail each. They denied that they were vagrants, but admitted certain improprieties that would alone class them in that category.

Frank Rice, charged with threatening to kill his stepdaughter, Miss Lizzie Young, was acquitted of the charge in consideration of putting up $200 bonds to keep the peace. Hearing in the case of J. H. Santen, proprietor of the saloon known as the Brewers' Resort, who is charged with selling liquor to a minor, occupied some time at the close of the session.

Mary Feldman, a young woman nearly six feet in height and weighing in the neighborhood of 275 pounds, and posing as the minor. She claimed to be but 14 years old, and, though she knew neither when nor where she was born, she said that she had the documentary evidence at the house of her sister, to establish her age. The court will pass upon the case this afternoon.

A HORSE THIEF CONVICTED.

John Pickerel was tried in Judge Stearns's court yesterday afternoon on a charge of stealing a horse in 1887. Pickerel was arrested at the time and lodged in the county jail. C. H. Woods was then jailer, and Pickerel, seeing a chance of escaping, took advantage of it, and quietly skipped out and was not heard from until arrested some time since for lewd cohabitation with Alice Thorn.

The jury was only out about fifteen minutes and returned a verdict of guilty as charged.

TURK AND KELLY AGAIN.

Bunco Kelly was arrested by Constable Simmons yesterday morning on complaint of James Turk who accuses him of kidnaping. The case will be heard before Justice Tuttle to-day.

Kelly alleges that about two weeks ago he shipped two men here to sail on the ship Earl of Dunmore to Liverpool. At Astoria the men were compelled by sailor boarding house runners to say that they had been shanghaied. The runners then enlisted the services of a constable, who took them off the ship without a warrant.

FILED HIS BONDS.

Mr. James Slee, the new executor of the Holladay estate, has filed his bond of $300,000, as required by County Judge Catlin.

The following are his sureties: J. Loewenberg, $50,000; H. W. Monastes, $10,000; C. M. Wiberg, $25,000; P. T. Smith, $50,000; A. M. Smith, $10,000; A. M. Johnson, $25,000; R. Williams, $25,000; William Reid, $25,000; W. A. Scoggin, $10,000; George P. Lent, $10,000; G. A. Steel, $10,000; W. W. Spaulding, $10,000; R. S. Perkins, $30,000.

GENERAL INGALLS' APPEAL.

This morning Judge Stearns will hear an appeal from the county court in relation to the guardianship of the Holladay children, General Rufus Ingalls being the appellant.

THE FOURTH OF JULY COMMITTEE.

A Statement by the Chairman to Subscribers to the Fund.

PORTLAND, June 11, 1889.

To the Editor of the Oregonian:

At a public meeting called for that purpose a committee of citizens was appointed to take in charge arrangements for the proper celebration of the coming Fourth of July. This committee organized and proceeded with the discharge of its duties. It called upon citizens for contributions to defray the expenses of the celebration, and a considerable sum of money was subscribed for that purpose, a portion of which has been collected in, and a part of which remains uncollected.

While preparations were rapidly going forward for a fitting celebration by the people of this city of the national holiday, the late disastrous fire occurred in our neighboring city of Seattle, bringing sudden distress, want and desolation to hundreds of people. For aid at once took steps to render them assistance, and it was suggested among other things that we forego the celebration of the Fourth of July and apply the funds raised for that purpose towards the relief of the people of Seattle. A public meeting of citizens was held to consider the question, and at said meeting, after full discussion, it was unanimously voted to dispense with the celebration and donate the funds which would be spent for that purpose to the Seattle relief fund.

For a day or two it seemed doubtful whether our plucky neighbors were going to allow us to contribute money for their assistance, but it is now certain that the distress there will be greater than at first anticipated and that assistance will be needed to prevent suffering among the many who have lost their all by this great calamity.

The time has come to turn over the Fourth of July fund to the Seattle relief committee.

The Fourth of July committee does not feel that it has authority, without notice to the subscribers, to divert the funds in its hands to any purpose other than that for which such moneys were subscribed.

This, therefore, is to give notice that this committee will, on Saturday morning, the 15th instant, turn over to the Seattle relief committee all funds remaining in its hands at that time. All persons who do not wish the amounts subscribed by them to the Fourth of July celebration fund to be so disposed of, or who for any reason wish to withdraw their subscriptions, are hereby notified that they can receive back the amount paid in by them by calling upon W. P. Olds, Esq., treasurer of the committee, at the store of Olds & King, corner First and Taylor streets, during Wednesday, Thursday or Friday of this week. Any person desiring to increase his subscription can also do so with Mr. Olds. All persons not calling upon the treasurer within the time stated will be deemed as acquiescing in this disposal of their subscriptions.

The subscription books of amounts not yet collected will be turned over to the Seattle Relief committee, who will call upon the subscribers who can manage the matter of their subscriptions with that committee. Many persons have indicated their desire to increase the amount of their subscriptions since the fund is to go to the aid of Seattle. This plan will enable them to do so.

The thanks of the 4th of July Committee and of the citizens of Portland are due to the 2d Cavalry Band of Fort Walla Walla, and to Prof. Kay's band of Portland for most generously releasing the committee from contracts made with them, in order that the funds might be sent to Seattle, and to The Oregonian Publishing Company and Messrs. Baltes & Co. for cancelling considerable advertising and printing bills against the committee, and to the Pacific Postal Telegraph company for the free use of their wires. I take great pleasure in making these acknowledgements on behalf of the committee.

O. F. PAXTON,
Chairman 4th of July Committee.

BIDS OPENED—CONTRACT AWARDED.

For some time proposals were advertised for bids to furnish materials and labor necessary in the erection of an addition to a building on the county poor farm and the construction of the same. Yesterday the bids were opened. The following are the bids:

TO EAST PORTLAND.

This magnificent property comprises 1400 lots and lies immediately between the city of East Portland (population 12,000) on the south and the city of Albina (population 4000) on the north, being really a "reserve" between two populous centers with a combined population of SIXTEEN THOUSAND. It is high, commanding a view of the entire cities of Portland, East Portland and Albina and is reached by the street cars of the Willamette Bridge Railway Co. from either Portland or East Portland. This company is now operating two lines of street cars, one running north from Holladay's addition, through the heart of East Portland, across the Morrison street bridge, and the other running due west across the new steel bridge, both lines terminating in Portland. In addition to these two lines the cars of the Vancouver motor line run directly through Holladay's addition from north to south. The property can also be easily reached from the "west side" by either the Southern Pacific Railroad Company's steam ferry or by the small ferries running from Portland to Albina. Some of the finest residences on the "east side" are located in this addition. Many of the most prominent residents of Portland and East Portland are now purchasing property in Holladay's addition and many elegant and substantial residences will be constructed there during the coming year. A magnificent Boulevard, Holladay avenue, 100 feet wide, cuts through the entire property from west to east, and is now one of the most popular drives out of the city. This connects with the new steel railroad and wagon bridge (spanning the Willamette) on the west, thus giving easy access into Portland from this most desirable property. Address or call on

This is the finest and most desirable property on the East Side; is nearer to churches, schools and the business and residence center of the City of Albina than any other offered.

Notice particularly, that it is but four blocks distant from the high school on Russell street, and but four blocks distant from the North school, the two principal public schools of the city. There are two churches within two blocks, other churches in the immediate vicinity, and the entire tract surrounded by substantial and attractive homes. Albina addition is inside property with a sure and established value, which will rapidly advance. It is but one block to the line of the proposed electric street railway, which will enter the City of Portland direct by way of the new steel bridge, already constructed and in operation at North Third and F sts. Every lot in Albina addition is cleared of stumps and all rubbish; the soil is rich black loam and the situation everything that is desirable for pleasant homes or business property. Prices from $350 upwards. Terms, one-third cash, balance to suit purchasers. Call on or address

PORTLAND, WEDNESDAY, JUNE 12.

AN ILLEGITIMATE CORPORATION.

The Oregon & Transcontinental Company is not a legitimate corporation; that is, it does not exist for a legitimate purpose, and its operations run counter to fundamental principles of public policy. It is not, in fact, a railway corporation, though pretending to be one; its function is to manage or manipulate the affairs of railway corporations and to control and direct their policy. To effect this it acquires large holdings of their stocks, that it may control their elections, dictate their management, play one road against another or unite roads for a common purpose,—that purpose being always the purpose of gamblers who traffic in stocks and securities, make enormous commissions on great transactions (on paper), and play the whole game of greed and "steal" from year to year, varying it according to the "hands" they hold after successive "deals."

The corporation through which this game is played is a corporation created under the laws of Oregon. But it is so manifestly at variance with the intent of our laws as to the purposes and functions of corporations, that the district attorney here, acting in behalf of the state, ought to institute proceedings at once to disincorporate it and wind up its affairs. The governor also might properly take notice of it. A letter from him to the district attorney, calling attention to the statutes under which proceedings may be taken, would be a timely expression.

The laws of Oregon require directors of corporations, in general, to be residents of the state, but there is a provision that allows a minority of the directors of corporations formed for the purpose of constructing and operating railroads to reside out of the state. The exception was made for the reason that large capital is required for these enterprises, which usually must be obtained from abroad, and they who supply the capital are supposed to desire a voice in the management of the property. But the law nevertheless requires a majority of the directors to be residents of Oregon. The purpose undoubtedly is to have the control of the corporation kept within the state. That is the intent of the law, yet its intent is practically annulled by election of a set of dummies as home directors, who are not directors at all, but are directed from New York. The spirit and intent of the law of Oregon are openly violated by setting up an executive committee of the minority of the board in New York, with full powers of a board of directors; and the only function of the dummy directors in Oregon is to go through the farcical forms of passing or enacting what the directorship in New York requires. All resolutions, all proceedings required, are formulated there and telegraphed here, with orders to "adopt" them; and the extreme of this description of farce was reached the other day when a resolution, dictated at New York and telegraphed here, was adopted by Mr. Villard's dummy board in Portland, conferring on him absolute power to do anything and everything he might see fit with the affairs, business and management of the O. & T. This resolution gave all the powers of the board of directors to one man,—though the statutes of Oregon expressly declare that the powers vested in the corporation shall be exercised by the board of directors, and though the supreme court of Oregon has held that a president of a corporation, authorized to act as "business and financial agent" of the corporation, has power only to attend to its ordinary business.

The existence of the Oregon & Transcontinental is a menace to public interests, because it attacks fundamental principles of public policy. It is a corporation created and maintained for the purpose of nullifying the powers and destroying the autonomy of other corporations. It puts into the hands of one man a power dangerous to the shareholders or creditors of any corporation with whose stock it may deal, and threatens public interests far and wide. It can be used to build up one railway and to pull down another; it is the agent or instrument through which the funds of corporations in enormous sums can be taken and used right and left, at the pleasure of the "executive committee" or of the man at the head of it. It is a great co-poration dice box, with which the game of "gourd and fullam," or loaded dice, may be played to suit the interest or caprice of the manipulator. In short, it is a public enemy, and it ought to be attacked and destroyed. It had its origin in a "confidence game," it proved a colossal swindle, upon those to whom its stock was recommended, and as long as it exists it will be an instrument of disorder, disturbance, private greed and public oppression.

RESPONSIBILITY FOR THE CATASTROPHE.

The work of finding the dead and caring for the living at Johnstown was the first duty that followed the catastrophe; the newspapers are now beginning to talk in plain terms about the responsibility for so dreadful an event. The New York Tribune says:

It is a monstrous thing that any body of men should be permitted to gather up, whether for their personal profit or merely for their pleasure, a deadly avalanche like that which has just been hurled upon this peaceful valley. In a future age, when human life has ceased to be the cheapest of all earthly possessions, such a thing will seem inconceivable.

The Chicago Tribune deals with the subject in a still more pointed manner. It asks: "Who are the ones responsible for the dreadful loss of life, and who are the persons who should pay as far as their means allow for the property that has been destroyed?" And it answers the question in this manner, viz:

Clearly the members of the South Fork club, who maintained for purposes of pleasure a dam which kept a lake three miles long and one wide hung up high in the air, penning up sixty-three million tons of water—a body which carelessness, or accident, or some convulsion of nature might hurl down upon the people living along the river bottoms. * * Whether the clubmen gave an indemnifying bond or not they can be sued for the damage they have caused, and can be stripped of whatever property they cannot hide. They have had their fun. Now let them pay for it.

A CAUSE OF CONSUMPTION.

Statistics of mortality are said to prove that one-seventh of the deaths in the civilized portions of the world are caused by consumption. And yet consumption is normally a disease of primitive man and not distinctively a disease of civilization. That is, it is not, like alcoholism, apoplexy and Bright's disease, entirely a product of the conditions of civilized life. It has been more fatal among the aboriginal races of America than among the descendants of Europeans, and if we had statistics we should probably find that it was the principal cause of death among the prehistoric races.

Consumption doubtless has many causes; that is, there are many incidents that contribute to it. But it is believed by physicians who have made it a special subject of investigation that the most active cause of consumption is the inhalation of the bacilli that are found in the expectoration of consumptives. It is believed that when the expectoration of the consumptive dries, as it does when received on a handkerchief, or when the patient expectorates on the floor, bacilli are generated, and if these enter the lungs of a person in health, they are apt to [illegible] the disease. There seem to be [illegible] cases where persons have taken the disease by contact with those suffering from it.

It should be possible in this age of scientific progress to come nearer to a sound method of dealing with this disease. Everything, however, is experimental, and the only way to discovery of a sound method is to try all apparently rational methods that are proposed.

A LESSON FROM EXPERIENCE.

Fruit growers of the Pacific coast who have engaged extensively in the cultivation of prunes have a promise of fair returns for their investment. Dealers in dried fruits in New York announce themselves ready to absorb the entire prune crop of the coast at good prices, the only condition being that the product must be first-class and carefully packed and shipped. Oregon horticulturists have it in their power to establish a reputation in this industry that will stand them in good stead in the future. They have no bad record to overcome in this business. All that they have to do is to go into it with the honest determination not to send out a single box of an inferior product, or one carelessly packed, and adhere to it rigidly.

The odds against which Oregon butter labors to secure a place even in the home market should be a warning to producers in this state who are entering a new field of export. Years ago, when the product of the housewives' churns in the surrounding district was left at the village store in exchange for calico, sugar, tobacco, molasses and other commodities that the farm would not produce, and kept for several days in close proximity to the regular stock of soap, sugar, bacon and coal oil of that necessary establishment, awaiting a sufficient accumulation to warrant a special shipment to market, the fame of Oregon butter was established. For the past two decades, and especially within five years, practical and careful butter-makers have labored to break down the reputation thus acquired, but it was so strongly fixed that to this day the term "Oregon butter" suggests a rank and reeking compound, anything but appetizing in appearance, odor or flavor. California butter, short in weight but firm, neatly packed, artistically tinged and to all appearances clean, easily crowded a product so uninviting out of its own commercial field, and it was not difficult to maintain the place thus secured. The product of Oregon dairies and creameries is now generally superior to the "California fresh roll," but the latter still maintains a place in this market that makes it impossible to manufacture large quantities of butter in this state with profit.

The lesson is plain, and it has proved to be a costly and annoying one. There is a chance for it to prove profitable to the producer who enters any new field of industry in the state. It is as easy to establish a good reputation for any product in the first place as it is to establish one that is bad.

We remember years ago when Oregon orchards were in their prime; when the mossgrown, broken-down trees, the haunts of the codlin moth and wooly aphis of today were vigorous and young, producing the most toothsome and perfect apples, in an abundance that overstocked the limited market of those times. Dried apples were, however, a necessity to the miners in various sections of the Northwest and to the settlers of the ranches and small towns in the then fruitless regions of Eastern Oregon. Portland was the distributing point for the supplies for these sections. Our attention being called to the matter by a discouraged farmer's wife, we were surprised to find Eastern dried fruit, which at that time had to reach this city by way of San Francisco, and possibly by way of Cape Horn or the Isthmus, quoted two or three cents higher than the Oregon product. Surprise vanished, however, when a few days later we noticed in a country store a promiscuous heap of dried apples en route for Portland, tied up in the horse blanket in which they had been marketed.

Oregon dried apples, carefully and evenly cured and neatly packed have long supplanted this early product in the markets of the Northwest, but a certain opprobrium yet attaches to the name.

Lack of competition begets unthrift, and to the isolated position of Oregon prior to the transcontinental railroad era is due, at least largely the thriftless habits that stamped themselves upon the surplus that found its way to market. There is no reason to believe that Oregon producers, as a class, are now more careless in regard to the condition in which they send their products to market than agriculturists of other states. It is their misfortune that they have to overcome a reputation acquired under other conditions, and it will certainly be their fault—and a stupid, short-sighted one at that—if in entering a new field, like that of prune-raising, for example, they do not secure the benefit of a good reputation for their product in the outset.

Senator Voorhees, of Indiana, had an opportunity to do a little bit of demagogic work recently, and of course he did it. In sending a contribution for the relief of the striking coal miners, at Brazil, Ind., he writes:

This condition of things, occurring under the highest protective tariff ever known in American history, and repeated more than a hundred times over in every state in the Union, makes its own conclusive argument to every intelligent working man and working woman.

The facts are these, and Senator Voorhees knows them well, namely: On anthracite coal there is no duty, but a duty is imposed on bituminous coal of seventy-five cents per ton. The framers of the Mills bill originally reduced the duty on bituminous coal to fifty cents per ton, but owing to the influence of Congressman William L. Scott, of Pennsylvania, President Cleveland's especial representative in the house, the present duty was left untouched. Scott and other democratic statesmen have large bituminous coal interests. They were anxious to force free trade in wool and other products on the people, and thus break down important domestic industries, but they didn't want their own particular ox gored. These are the facts in the case, which the demagogic Senator Voorhees was very careful to ignore.

Governor Hill has once more vetoed a high license bill for the state of New York; also a bill "to tax sales of beverages in certain cases," known as the Vedder bill. The New York World, a well known democratic paper, makes these remarks:

It is apparent from a reading of these artful messages that the governor is convinced that he is dealing with political measures designed to damage the democratic party. His vetoes indicate that he is a man who is determined that the democratic party shall not be injured, if he can help it. He naturally assumes that these bills were passed to "put him in a hole" politically, and he boldly accepts the issue. But is this the kind of legislation and statesmanship merited by the Empire state?

Business men of Seattle, as they gaze meditatively upon the ashes of what were valuable papers, consigned confidingly to cunningly concealed recesses of "safes," are of the opinion that the names of some things are misleading, and are more than ever convinced that there is nothing certain in this world but death and losses. Few if any of these safes stood the test of fire, so severely applied in Seattle last week.

Indications that the life saving service is to be increased on the North Pacific coast are most welcome. Even with the establishment of stations at the points designated, viz: Yaquina bay, and the Umpqua and Coquille rivers in this state, and at Ilwaco Beach and Peterson's Point in Washington territory, the coast line will be imperfectly protected when compared with the protection furnished by this service in the Atlantic and Lake districts. Statistics of the life saving service furnish a record of heroism and relief each year that illustrates forcibly the humanity and efficiency of the system and warrants its extension. The comparatively slighted commerce of the North Pacific coast has caused its dangers to be ignored by the authorities in years past, but increase of trade and consequent increase of liability to disaster, together with recent fatalities from wrecks, in this district, have resulted in a determination to establish stations, as indicated. It is to be hoped that these stations may be equipped before the storms of another winter menace the commerce of this coast.

It was apparent from the beginning that citizens of Seattle who suffered by the late fire would in many instances need something more substantial than sympathy. The spirit that prefers to help itself is a most commendable one and worthy of all encouragement but the adage that "it is hard for an empty bag to stand upright" is as true now as it was in the days of Ben Franklin. There are those, of course, who do not need help, but those who do are many, and it is meet that it should be furnished, as it has been, and will be as long as the necessity exists, with generous hand.

The chairman of the Fourth of July committee makes a statement to which the attention of the subscribers to the fund is directed. It is not probable that many of the subscribers will withdraw their subscriptions. Most, certainly, will be glad to have the money go to Seattle. Many of the subscribers have, indeed added to their subscriptions for the help of Seattle, or signified their purpose to do so.

An article printed yesterday on "A Puget Sound Collector"—an episode of the Lincoln administration—credited to the Popular Science Monthly, should have been credited to the Century Magazine.

NOTE AND COMMENT.

The Democratic Times, of Jacksonville, is becoming unnecessarily figurative in its style, so that it merits notice. To call a gentleman so well known as Captain Apperson a "blacksmith" is more emphatic than elegant and more abusive than the world would expect of a man of the editor's parts. The "Oregon style" was supposed to be out of date years ago, and does not need to be revived. The new register at Oregon City is certainly entitled to decent treatment, and the fact that he has secured a position under government is no crime. It is best to preserve the amenities and much easier not to say a rude thing than to be satisfied with it after it is said.

It is a serious question, where the tonnage is to come from that shall convey away the surplus of the Pacific coast wheat crops. The harvests will be exuberant all over Oregon and Washington, and California talks of having the largest crop ever gathered in that state. If they ship over a million and a quarter tons of wheat, and the Columbia river region furnishes a little over half as much, the total will be two million tons of wheat to be shipped or enough to load a thousand large vessels of 1,800 tons register. A vessel can carry one-half more than its register. There is talk of high freights and it will be necessary to pay well to get ships when they are wanted.

The Jacksonville Times says: "There is a comfortable feeling prevailing in Southern Oregon incident to good crops, good range, full barns and fat cattle, that is indicative of the highest and truest prosperity." The same condition prevails the farming world everywhere, and the prospect is that the producers of the country will be moderately prosperous. They may not receive the highest prices, but cannot but have an income that will keep them in healthy condition. This country is not yet so well developed as to furnish reliable markets and steady demand. It is only necessary to accomplish that end to have as prosperous a producing region as the sun shines upon.

Speaking of Pacific coast products that will replace in the world's markets the same usually produced in Europe, mention should be made of the hop, which is planted in our bottom lands, along the streams, and proves very superior as well as very prolific. The Old World hop, as also that of New York state, has become inferior by disease and long wear of the soil. In the recent bottoms of Oregon and Western Washington they yield largely and the quality is superior. Gradually the hop yards of this region—extending from the Golden Gate to the Straits of Fuca, nearly a thousand miles—have become a source of unfailing income and a reliable supply to the markets of the world.

General Miles held up before the mind's eye of the senatorial committee that lately visited the Pacific a picture of the decayed and dilapidated forts and works along our coast, and drew a word picture in contrast therewith of the splendid fortifications that are constructed by all other nations. It was graphically done, but probably was a waste of words, as senators do not lead but follow at such work. The house bars the road to all improvements with its impregnable no. Congress is an illustration of the fact that it takes two to make a bargain, and even three, as the executive has the last say on the acts of congress. It may be that the senators had a practical lesson that will in due time bear fruit.

The lower house of congress is said to have 264 professional men, twenty-six engaged in industry, twenty-four engaged in trade, and twenty-one engaged in agriculture. The great proportion of professional men, meaning lawyers, is remarkable when we consider how much denunciation there is of lawyers in congress. The farmers especially complain, and the record shows but one in sixteen as a farmer. The fact that the farmers number fully half the people causes us to expect them to insist on having a full share in the representation, and it evidently lies in their power to defeat professional men or insist on farmers as representatives. All this talk is wasted, and they have need to remember the good old saying: "Actions speak louder than words."

People may be a trifle uncertain as to the especial value of Paris green and London purple, as both are recommended to poison insect pests on fruit. London purple is preferred because it goes immediately into solution with water, while Paris green does not. The two poisons are equal in value, and those who know best explain the difference after this fashion: Paris green has to be prepared in a mixture with something else that will make it easily go into solution with water and is difficult to prepare and to use. London purple immediately mixes and forms a solution so perfect as to go through the fine spraying tubes and not choke them. Under these circumstances London purple is entirely used in spraying.

The San Jose scale bug is in Southern Oregon, but it is probable that it will not come north since we are liable to have cold winter spells. Climate has a great deal to do with pests. Much is said about the woolly aphis, and it sometimes becomes very abundant in Western Oregon. We have seen an old orchard so infested with it that to climb a tree would cover the climber with the slime. It is very destructive in California, and when an apple orchard is infested there they dig up and burn the trees. When as thick as can be here they seem to do no harm and have disappeared in a winter, so that not one was left of myriads. Insect pests don't seem to have much hold on Oregon, except the codlin moth, and that is a pest that every man can regulate to suit himself by spraying with London purple.

At Seattle, as well as at Johnstown, the ghouls commenced their foul work as soon as the catastrophe occurred. While the good men and women were striving to alleviate suffering and sharing their means with the despairing, the human beasts of prey were prowling about to improve every sordid opportunity for despoiling the dead and plundering the ruins. While Tacoma was raising relief and gathering supplies the baser sort were rushing to the scene of destruction for the basest purposes. It has probably not troubled any Christian and humane soul to read that vengeance was visited on these infamous creatures and summary justice dealt to those capable of such monstrous and inhuman conduct. What are such lives worth? How much better it would be if all such beings were blotted out entirely.

An incident that happened recently at Ellensburgh illustrates the truth of the old proverb that "an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure." A well-known lady of that place had a number of hand grenades in bottles hanging up, and when she got a new German servant girl who asked what they were for she explained their use, that in case a fire started in the house she was to break the bottles, and throw the contents of the bottles on the flames to subdue them. Soon after they were heating a can of oil to oil the kitchen floor, and in lifting the can that held the oil the solder being melted, the bottom came off and the oil ran over the stove and floor and took fire. The lady herself ran off, crying out "fire," but the German girl remembered the story of the hand grenades and carried out instructions so thoroughly that the fire was immediately extinguished. The story of the Ellensburgh fire is literally correct, and no doubt the hand grenades have great value, but since the factory that prepared them burned down there has been very little demand for them.

The European trade in raisins and prunes is sure to be greatly disturbed when the Pacific coast of the United States really commences to produce in quantity those articles of trade. It is becoming evident that the soil and climate of California are well calculated to produce raisins and the basaltic lands of the Pacific Northwest produce the best quality of prunes known to commerce. The vineyards of Europe are spoiled by the phylloxera, a species of plant louse that infests all the vine-growing countries of Europe. California comes in to fill the want and raisins from California have already brought a good price in the London market. Pacific coast raisins henceforth will supply the world as it will be sent to all countries that have hitherto had a supply from European vineyards. While this is so beyond question another favorite product of European soils is thriving as well in Oregon as in California. The Pacific coast prune commands attention for its excellence and can be produced here cheaply, as well as of superior quality. So far the cheap and inferior prunes of Turkey have been largely sold, but Oregon can produce a finer quality, as also a prune of larger size and every way can lead the European product. Gradually the products of our region are becoming known and well appreciated, and we may expect that other fruits will thrive as exotics on the soil of the Pacific.

CURRENT REMARKS.

A new mixed drink is called a "business brace," but its practical tendency is more that of a business suspender.—Baltimore American.

It does not seem likely that the czar will be successful in obtaining his proposed loan. He can offer no personal security.—Texas Siftings.

It is probably from humane motives that a railroad will not allow its trains to stop along the way more than ten minutes for refreshments.—Puck.

The customary question: Lady Customer—Do you keep linen writing paper? Stationer—Yes, ma'am. Lady customer—Will it wash?—Burlington Free Press.

Maud—So you are going to marry your father's cashier? Isabelle—Yes. Pa says that if he runs away with the bank's funds the money will still be in the family.

Quaver—I wonder where these street bands get the chance to practice together, since their members, I am told, have other occupation during the day. Suretone (covering his ears)—Now!—Life.

Blind man (to tailor)—I am looking for something for a suit. Tailor—Yes, sir. What color would you prefer? "Well, I should say blind man's buff would be as appropriate as anything. —Boston Herald.

Yabsley—Let a young woman deck herself in fine attire, powder her face, and go out unattended after dark, and what naturally follows? Wickwire—It ought to be her father with a good hickory gad, but is apt to be some young man.—Terre Haute Express.

Mr. Jonathan Trump—You are charming tonight, Miss Penelope Peachblow—Indeed? What nice things you men say! Mr. Brown just told me the same thing. Mr. Jonathan Trump (anxious to depreciate his rival)—Of course you can't believe he meant it!—Life.

Cripple—I am entitled to a pension, but I'm not going to apply for one. Friend—You are generous. Cripple—No, I'm not. I'm in the music. In a few months an ex-Federal soldier without a pension, even if he isn't a cripple, will be such a rarity that I'll get $1000 a week in a dime museum as a freak.—Texas Siftings.

Cholly—Aw-er-what an awso a man must be who commits suicide. The thing seems to get absolutely epidemic at times. I know it will neveh stwike me, I'm sure. Miss Laura—Don't be too sure of that, Mr. Sappe. Only a few days ago a monkey deliberately hanged himself in Chattanooga.—Terre Haute Express.

Health in Old Age.

Edward Collinson, Cuceni, N. Y., says: "I commenced using BRANDRETH'S PILLS over fifty-five years ago. I first bought them in London, and have continued using them since I came to this country in 1836. I am now over seventy-five years old, hale and hearty, and attribute my wonderful health to the persistent use of BRANDRETH'S PILLS. Occasionally I have a bad cold or severe attack of rheumatism, indigestion or biliousness but four or five doses of BRANDRETH'S PILLS always cure me. Whenever my children have been sick with scarlet fever, measles, mumps, sick stomach, dissipated indigestion or costiveness, a few doses of BRANDRETH'S PILLS restores their health at once."

NEW TO-DAY.

REPUBLICAN CONVENTION AND PRIMARY MEETINGS.

Primary meetings of Republican voters of the city of Portland are hereby called, and will be held in their respective wards Thursday, June 13, 1889, between the hours of 3 and 7 o'clock P. M. of said day, to elect delegates to attend a Republican City Convention, which is hereby called to meet at the County Court House, in the city of Portland, Saturday, June 15, 1889, at the hour of 1:30 o'clock P. M., for the purpose of nominating a candidate for City Police Commissioner and one candidate for Councilman in each ward, to be voted for at the coming city election, to be held on the third Monday, to-wit: the 17th day of June, 1889.

The following is the apportionment of delegates to the Convention, namely:

First Ward—Eleven delegates.
Second Ward—Nine delegates.
Third Ward—Thirteen delegates.

As judges of primaries the following appointments have been made by the committee, namely:

First Ward—J. I. Wilcox, W. T. Hume and M. A. Howe.

Second Ward—F. Renshaw, M. Weidler and W. L. Boise.

Third Ward—John Dudley, C. C. Doublehower and H. D. Gradon.

One judge in each ward to act as clerk.

The polling places for the primary meetings are as follows:

First Ward—Office in Fat Stock Exchange Building, west side of Fourth street, between A and B sts.

Second Ward—Store in Turner Hall Building, east side of Fourth between Morrison and Yamhill streets.

Third Ward—No. 12 south side of Columbia street, between Front and First. W. F. MATTHEWS, Chairman Republican City Committee.

Attest: S. L. WOODWARD, Secretary.

"A CONTRAST."

The family that lives in a rented house for four years, paying $20 per month, pays for rent principal, $960; interest on amount 8 per cent, $153 60; total, $1113 60, and at the end of that time have nothing to show for their money, and are no nearer having a home of their own than they were at the beginning.

The family which takes advantage of the offer of the Installment Building and Loan Company now, and pays down on a good, comfortable, well-finished house and lot $250
And pays $16 per month for 50 months 1300
Pays interest, insurance, taxes, say 250

Makes a total outlay of $1850

or but $736 40 more than those that rent the other family, and have and a better home than any rented house could be and have in it a profit and saving by the transaction a home worth (in four years from now in any part of Portland or its suburbs) at least twice its cost; now, say $3750, a sure saving of $1750, and a profit of $2650.

The price of real estate is advancing all along the lines. The chance for getting a moderate house at a cost within the means of an ordinary salaried man, are continually lessening. Being in and around Portland. It takes but $250 for a starter, and any man can pay the balance of $1500, at $20 per month, while he has a house to live in.

Taking a house this way is not going into debt. It is diverting otherwise lost money to the definite purpose of getting a home.

Call at No. 7 Stark st., and see how good a house and lot you can get on these terms.
THE INSTALLMENT BUILDING & LOAN CO.

FIVE-ACRE TRACTS.

Cheap and easy terms, in Newhurst Park. Newhurst Park offers the best chance for small fruit farms in Multnomah county to-day. Fruit is always a paying crop, more especially when dried. The money in the East are constantly crying out for good dried prunes. A young man taking five or ten acres and planting French prune trees now, can in a very short time have something that will give him a large income from a small investment. Newhurst is near the city of Portland and the proposed motor line, which will run through the park, brings it within reach of everybody. Land west of Mount Tabor is too valuable for fruit; go where you can get good soil and the city of water, such as Newhurst Park offers. Always have your money, and attend to your business in the city. In one year from to-day, land in Newhurst Park will be worth $300 per acre. Look back young man and see the chances you have missed and buy before it is too late. For maps and further particulars, apply to GEO. L. STORY, 31 Stark st.

The steamer Undine [illegible] wharf at foot of Taylor street at 6 [illegible] returning at close of exercises [illegible] evening.

[illegible]—All desiring to pay dues can get [illegible] from the secretary, Geo. H. Hines, 160½ [illegible] street, up stairs. Tickets for the ball [illegible] to Pioneers who pay their annual [illegible] had at same time; also badges indi[illegible] of their arrival in Oregon can be [illegible] by those who do not have them. It is [illegible] that as much of this kind of business be [illegible] to before hand as possible, so as to avoid [illegible] confusion.

[illegible]—The delegates to the [illegible] of the Rebekah degree I. O. O. [illegible] in session here, presented their retiring [illegible] Mr. A. G. Walling, with a beautiful [illegible] cane, as a mark of appreciation of [illegible] services as secretary for the past three years. [illegible] Walling has little use for a cane, but esteems [illegible] as an evidence of the esteem in which [illegible] held by the members of the Rebekah degree.

[illegible] C. B. Shelley, a very [illegible] and competent shorthand reporter com[illegible] here for some time, has gone into business [illegible] and is now ready to report conven[illegible] proceedings of associations, speeches, or [illegible] skillful rapid work. He can [illegible] for the present at room 55, Union block. [illegible] confidently recommend [illegible] a skillful stenographer.

[illegible] OAK ISLAND.—The Baptist and Con[illegible] churches will unite in a picnic excur[illegible] Oak Island next Saturday, the 15th inst. [illegible] has been chartered and will leave the [illegible] of Taylor street at 8 A. M., and touch at Duni[illegible] wharf, East Portland, and Shaver's wharf, [illegible] on the east side of the river. [illegible] to avail themselves of this splendid chance [illegible] a good day's outing.

[illegible]—The strawberry crop in [illegible] section has been the largest and finest ever [illegible] but the financial outcome has not [illegible] with strawberries down to [illegible] and no market at that price, [illegible] going to waste within a few miles [illegible] city, it is not to be wondered at that a [illegible] persons have decided to plow up their [illegible] patches.

A GOLD WATCH LOST.—Mrs. Paul McCann, of No. 6 North Third street, is the loser of a $125 gold watch, and does not know what has become of it. She missed it just after leaving a Third street car Monday. She is not certain whether she lost it in the car or whether it was stolen from her house. The loss has been reported to the police, but no trace has been found of the watch.

[illegible]—Information is wanted of the where[illegible] of Mary Schleser, aged 14 years, German [illegible] She is reported to have been put off the [illegible] The Dalles, Or., in the month of July, last [illegible] coming from the East, traveling alone. [illegible] knowing her present address will do a [illegible] by informing her father, Gabriel [illegible] Unionbown, W. T.

THE GREATEST BARGAIN ever offered is ten acres [illegible] residence property fronting on the [illegible] river between the Morrison street [illegible] City View park. Don't miss this op[illegible] as it will not occur again in a life time. [illegible] burned out in Seattle and must sell. [illegible] Call on Sherman D. Brown, 13 Mor[illegible] street.

[illegible] JIM.—Mayor DeLashmutt yes[illegible] received a dispatch from G. B. McAulay, [illegible] of the Granite and Sierra Nevada [illegible] stating that he had mailed a check for $17,-[illegible] for ore from those mines. There is lots more [illegible] that came from and the mines are now [illegible] to produce in fine style.

A [illegible] A IR.—A correspondent writes to THE OREGONIAN that Mr. S. R. Williams, living [illegible] Polk county, is the owner of a [illegible] "Old Biddie" has not yet [illegible] days of usefulness either, for she has [illegible] eggs during the past spring [illegible]

[illegible] AND BASKET PICNIC.—Remember [illegible] and cheapest excursion of the season [illegible] Park, St. John's, Saturday, [illegible] Only 25 cents for the round trip. Boat [illegible] Oak street, Portland, 8:30; East Portland, [illegible] Albina, 9 A. M.

[illegible]—Through inadvertence the [illegible] Henry Liebe appeared in the police court [illegible] yesterday morning's OREGONIAN, [illegible] should have been Henry Slebe. As [illegible] well known in the city the correction [illegible] a matter of justice to him.

[illegible] FROM ROGUE RIVER.—Salmon are now [illegible] from Rogue river by rail to be [illegible] on the Columbia. It may be that their [illegible] is good as Columbia river salmon, but in [illegible] there is no doubt about their being sold [illegible] Columbia river salmon.

ALWAYS A COOL BREEZE THERE.—The rush for light-weight summer clothes at Kohn's causes the [illegible] and yet should go there if you want to [illegible] cool. Lowest prices at Kohn's, corner [illegible] and Morrison streets.

SOMETHING ABOUT CITY POLITICS.

The Primaries—Convention—New Police Commissioner—Schemes and Surmises.

The republican city central committee has had two meetings lately.

At the first one the advisability of putting up a candidate for police commissioner was discussed at length, and it was concluded that it would be the proper thing to elect delegates to the convention who were instructed to nominate a candidate for police commissioner.

It was, however, decided to hold another meeting, and in the meantime take counsel of leading citizens in regard to this matter. This was done, and the general sentiment was in favor of letting the law as it now stands. If it is all right, it will stand, and if it is not right, let it be so shown. The delegates to the city convention will be instructed to nominate a candidate for police commissioner, and if he is elected he will at once test in the courts the validity of the law making the present board of police commissioners perpetual.

The primaries will be held Thursday evening between 6 and 8 P. M., and the convention on Saturday at the county court-house at 1 P. M.

The police department are well satisfied with the perpetual style of commission, and their scheme for perpetuating it is said to be to secure the election of a commissioner who will decline to serve.

The city election is bound to be a one-sided affair, and any element which can be introduced to make it interesting will meet with approval.

Mr. Gerdes has concluded that if he does not get the democratic nomination he will come out on an independent ticket, and be elected by republican votes. It is a good scheme, and it is expected Mr. Gerdes will conclude to try it.

MAKE EARLY APPLICATION.

Persons Desiring Space in the Exposition Building Should Not Procrastinate.

Persons wishing space in the Exposition building to make exhibits at the approaching fair, should apply early, as the space is being rapidly taken. In fact the machinery hall is getting so crowded that the directors are contemplating putting in an additional floor below the present one for the accommodation of exhibitors.

There will be many attractions and specialties exhibited at the coming fair such as have never been seen before. A contract has been closed for a carload of paintings for the art gallery, to come from New York. They are new paintings by American artists and will make a fine display.

A contract has also been closed with a silk weaver who is now at work on plans of the Exposition building, a picture of which will be woven on silk handkerchiefs, bookmarks, etc., in the fair, so that all can see how this kind of work is done.

Among other attractions will be a pottery exhibit, where ware will be made, ornamented and burned; ropemaking machines, orange wood turning, wax flower making by eight persons, a Kindergarten school in operation with exhibits of work done by the classes, and many other novel and interesting features.

The beautiful collection of birds procured by S. S. Douglass from Australia and during his trip East, are being mounted, and will form a very handsome and attractive exhibit, there being among them many of the most rare and beautiful species of birds.

REFUSED TO ISSUE BRANCHES.

Very Peculiar Action on the Part of the Board of Pilot Commissioners.

A meeting of the board of pilot commissioners was held at Astoria yesterday, at which they refused to issue branches to pilots connected with the O. R. & N. Co.

The reason for this action, it is understood, is that the pilots sent in a communication offering to do piloting for nothing until the validity of the pilot law, passed by the last legislature, is settled. Just what authority the board have for this action is difficult to conceive, as the law is valid until it is proved otherwise, and the law gives the board no discretion in the matter and requires them to issue branches to competent persons applying for them. Even Capt. Brown, for years pilot on the steamer Columbia, and one of the most competent men on the river, was refused a branch. One thing is certain; if the pilots succeed in having the pilot law declared invalid, they will ruin the commerce of the Columbia and have an easy time of it in the future.

THE CASE OF ALICE THORN.

Mrs. Laubner of Halsey Offers to Take the Young Woman in.

Alice Thorn, the young woman jointly indicted with John Pickerel on a charge of lewd cohabitation, was discharged from custody yesterday, and turned over to the officers of the Boys' and Girls' Aid Society. It is the intention to try and find her a place to work in some family of this city.

Mrs. Laubner, of Halsey, Oregon, for whom Miss Thorn has worked, writes to a lady in this city asking after the young woman, and states that she would like her to come back to her employ. She is afraid that if Alice is kept in this city, she will again meet with bad company and fall even lower than she has already. She says that the girl's intention is to be good, but is susceptible to flattery and easily led astray. In a city the size of Portland, the temptations are great, while in Halsey they are not.

Alice is eighteen years of age, and cannot be classed as a minor, yet when an offer such as is made by Mrs. Laubner is received it would be well to consider it.

COFFEE'S CREW WON THE RACE.

Two mixed crews of the Portland Rowing Association had a three-quarter of a mile race from the old water works to the Morrison street bridge last evening. The crews were as follows:

First—Quackenbush, McAlpin, Dr. Nunn, Henry Nunn.

Second—Coffee, Bellinger, Carr and McLaine.

Coffee's crew won by three lengths. Henry Nunn's seat jumped the track and sliding, so far as he was concerned, was an impossibility. J. Manion and J. P. Marshall acted as judges and Aarold Pilkington as the starter.

PERSONAL.

Mr. George Bronson has returned from San Francisco, where he has been studying music for several months.

Mr. David Marks, business manager of the Helena Independent, is now in the city on his way to San Francisco.

Miss Laura Taylor, who has been attending school at Salem, will return to her home in this city, Friday. Miss Mary Scott, of Heppner, will be her guest a few days before she returns home.

BRIEF MENTION.

Pleasure boats for rent, at Stark street.

Depot for Maskey's fine candies. All orders delivered free of charge. H. Gerson & Co., corner First and Ash. Telephone No. 459.

Go to H. Sinsheimer, No. 214 First street, for the best pianos and organs. He carries only the standard instruments, such as Steinway & Sons and other pianos, Burdett and Story and Clark organs, the best in the world. Easy payments.

Notice to Pupils of Public Schools.—The newly adopted readers have arrived. Pupils can now take their old readers to The Wiley B. Allen Book and Music Store 211 First St. and get the new books in even exchange. Those not supplied with the old readers can get the new books at "introductory" price which is less than half what the price will be later on.

Through the kindness of The Kohler & Chase Music House, 71 Morrison, those who attend the excursion on the river to-night for the benefit of the Seattle sufferers will be afforded the use of a magnificent Decker Brothers' piano kindly furnished by this enterprising firm for the occasion. The Decker Brothers for richness, delicacy and volume of tone is without a peer in the world to-day.

Hood's Sarsaparilla is a peculiar medicine, entirely different from any other. Try it.

THE DEVASTATED CITY

To-day the State Will Assume Control at Johnstown.

AN EXODUS OF THE SURVIVORS

Many of the Laborers Are Also Leaving the Town—Pride the Cause of a Great Amount of Suffering Among Families.

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., June 11.—This is the last day for clearing away the effects of the flood by the civil authorities. To-morrow the state takes hold of the stupendous work.

The horror of the situation is not diminished, but rather grows. The search for the dead continues, and in all sections and directions dead are being found. A number of bodies are now coming to the surface of the waters, and competent judges say that as many more bodies as have been found are lying somewhere. In many unexpected places bodies are hourly being found. Where this will end, no human mind can guess.

The day opened rainy, but as it advanced the sun came out, and the morning hours were hot and muggy.

Many workmen are leaving because they will not work for $1.50 a day, which the state proposes to pay. It is believed that there will be a temporary stoppage of work on this account.

THE DAY'S DEVELOPMENTS.

Systematic Work Is Accomplishing Much in the Devastated City.

JOHNSTOWN, June 11.—The impending change in the control of the town, the exodus of the workmen and flood survivors, and the steady rain have combined to make Johnstown very quiet to-day.

At all the headquarters the work has been narrowed down to the finest possible caliber, and a good many faithful men are getting the rest that they needed long ago.

To-morrow Mr. Scott throws down the reins of government and Adjutant General Hastings takes hold. At least $100,000 will be paid out to the men to-morrow morning, and the majority of it will leave the town with the men who earned it.

The new leaders claim to have a number of plans to introduce by which the work of clearing up the wreckage and caring for the survivors will be greatly systematized and simplified. The military will be retained.

Good progress was made in clearing out the channel of the Conemaugh above the bridge to-day. A number of stationary engines and long cables are being used to pull out the heavy timbers.

The morgues are about to be abandoned, on account of the bad condition of the bodies being recovered. Identification is almost impossible, unless by the personal effects found upon the bodies.

The state board of health still issues encouraging bulletins, although isolated cases of pneumonia, diphtheria and measles are reported, generally from the suburbs.

The spirit of recovery took a firm hold on the Johnstown's citizens to-day. Everywhere the owners of property were hard at work cleaning out their cellars, drying their carpets and bedding and inaugurating a general renovation.

General Hastings, this morning, said: "The work of clearing up the city will be done by contract, and negotiations will be opened at once with leading contractors. Several may be employed, but I can not say who will get the work at this time. Until the commission is appointed, Scott has volunteered his services, and will render all the assistance in his power."

Quartermaster Baker started out four men to-day to canvass Johnstown proper, in order to classify those needing provisions. To-night the men turned in 1187 names, and the city was not nearly all visited.

Baker says that a surprising amount of need was unearthed. A great many ladies were found whose families were really suffering, who had failed through a sense of delicacy to apply for aid. The humility of seeking relief is removed by the system now being introduced, and food and clothing which has been going in large lots to undeserving persons will now go to a more respectable and retiring class.

T. J. Oliver, of Philadelphia, who is in charge of the storehouse established in the German Catholic church, said that twenty carloads of provisions and clothing were unloaded there to-day.

Enough clothing is arriving in Johnstown to supply the city for two years.

Thirty-eight bodies were recovered to-day, all of them being in an advanced state of decomposition.

This afternoon the body of Miss C. A. Christman, the foreign missionary from New Orleans, who was on the fated day express train, was found. Her body was embalmed and placed in a handsome casket, to await the disposition of her friends. She was a woman of fine presence, and was dressed handsomely in a light brown dress with a braided front. On her person was found a draft for $275, a valuable gold watch and a small amount of money.

THREE NOTED WOMEN.

Movements of Bernhardt, Amelie Rives-Chanler and Emma Abbott.

PARIS, June 11.—Sara Bernhardt, the actress, has arranged to remain in Paris until March of next year, after which she will go to America.

Amelie Rives-Chanler comes to Paris in the autumn to enter an art school. She is at work on a new story on employment of children in factories.

Emma Abbott has arrived at the Hotel de Lathence, Paris. She will go to hear "Esclarmonde," the opera in which Sibyl Sanderson recently scored such a success, and if suitable will negotiate with Massenet for the American rights.

FOR PROHIBITION.

A Father Matthew's Society Declares in Favor of a Constitutional Amendment.

CARBONDALE, Pa., June 11.—The Pioneer Father Matthew's society, of this city, which is the oldest society of the kind in the United States, has decided, by a vote of 62 to 10, to vote and work and parade for a constitutional amendment prohibiting the sale of liquor.

This bold step will, it is thought, induce others to follow suit and lead to the general espousal of prohibition by the Irish Catholics. The friends of the amendment are confident that they will carry this city.

THE WELDON EXTRADITION BILL.

A Question as to Whether It Will Be Retroactive.

OTTAWA, June 11.—It is learned that the Weldon extradition bill is likely to be ratified by the imperial government.

The law officers of the department of justice regard the law as retroactive, thus including old time fugitives. It is doubtful, however, whether the executive would permit the extradition of the "boodlers," as parliament distinctly voted down the amendment declaring the measure retroactive.

A DENIAL FROM GLADSTONE.

The Palmerston Cabinet Never Thought of Recognizing the C. S. A.

NEW YORK, June 11.—Henry Clews has received a letter from Gladstone, in which the latter says that the Palmerston cabinet never dealt with the subject of recognizing the Southern Confederacy, except to the extent of promptly and unanimously rejecting the overtures of Louis Napoleon, looking to recognition.

THE LIQUOR QUESTION.

On the 18th inst. Pennsylvania votes on constitutional prohibition, and there are decided indications that there will be a more overwhelming defeat of prohibition in the Keystone state than was witnessed in Oregon, Massachusetts and New Hampshire. Pennsylvania will roll up 60,000 majority against the amendment.

On the 30th ult. the general assembly of Rhode Island passed the bill submitting to the electors, on the third Thursday in June, an amendment to the state constitution annulling the prohibitory amendment. The act passed the senate by a vote of 28 to 10, and the house 54 to 13.

In Philadelphia, under high license, if the judges pursue the same policy among the other wards as among the first thirteen, there will be about 1000 drinking places in the city, against about 13,000 last year. In that part of the city already passed on there are seventy-one less saloons than in 1888. In one ward, the fourth, where there were thirty-three saloons last year, there are only twenty-three now, yet before the high license law went into effect last June there were 213 drinking bars in the ward.

Collector Webster, of the Dubuque, Ia., district, in a letter to B. F. Wright, of Charles City, "father of the late prohibition amendment," gives the results of the attempts to enforce prohibition in the forty-nine counties of Northern Iowa, constituting his district. The Iowa law makes the possession by the defendant of a government license a prima facie evidence of guilt. To escape this provision of the law, many of the applicants, it is charged, have taken out their licenses under mythical names, and a still larger number of dealers are doing business without a government license, preferring to risk detection by the internal revenue officers to creating evidence against themselves before the state courts. Collector Webster says in reply:

"Of the 1500 licenses issued from this office, but sixty bear mythical names. It is not within the power of the collector to withhold a license from any one who meets the requirements of the law, and the applicant is entitled to whatever name he wishes placed on the license, provided his real name is stated in the application. It is not compulsory on the part of the collector to expose his list of applications nor does the good of the service dictate that he should. The violation of the state law is not his concern, for it is not an offense against the laws he is sworn to enforce. On the other hand, the exposure of the list would injure the service by subjecting those whose names appear on it to prosecution under the state law, and by thus inducing them in the future to add violation of the Federal law requiring that they procure licenses to their sin against the state law. The effect would be to diminish the receipts of the revenue department from licenses and to increase its expenses for the detection and prosecution of crime.

"The Iowa prohibitory law," continued the collector, "has already had this effect. The sixty licenses bearing mythical names were issued to dealers in the counties of this district in which the most vigorous efforts have been made to enforce the prohibitory law. These efforts have been costly, not to the people of the state alone, but have resulted in great expense to this department, by requiring us to detect and punish persons unlawfully engaged in the liquor business therein. For your county (Mr. Wright's) we have taken into court nine bootleggers and convicted them of violation of the law by carrying on the liquor business without having government licenses. From Governor Larrabee's county Fayette) we have convicted forty-nine. His county has cost us more for criminal prosecutions than any other in the state. On the other hand, Dubuque county, which has yielded us more revenue than any other, has cost us little. We have had but three criminal cases from Dubuque county, and none were for bootlegging.

"From these facts," continues Collector Webster, "it may be inferred that Governor Larrabee was not correct when he stated to a Nebraska audience that prohibition was enforced in eighty-five of the ninety-nine counties of Iowa. On the contrary, there is not a county in this district, nor a town of 800 inhabitants or over for which retail liquor dealers' licenses have not been issued, and in every county the number of licenses issued, when together with the number of bootleggers convicted, indicates an increase in the number of dealers as compared with the number in existence before the prohibitory law took effect."

In Boston the number of licenses has been reduced from 1600 to 780.

BISHOP SCOTT ACADEMY.

Interesting Closing Exercises of the School Year—Scholarships—Prizes—Drill—Badges Awarded.

The closing exercises at the Bishop Scott academy were held yesterday according to program. The battalion wheeled into line at 3:30 P. M. for their last parade for the school year. Immediately following the dress parade the people, a goodly number of whom were present, passed up stairs to the school chapel and after a short delay the procession was formed for the chapel exercises. The school boys marched in procession singing, "We march, we march to victory." Following the cadets came the school faculty, Dr. J. W. Hill, the principal, the visiting clergy, Rev. John W. Sellwood, Rev. Mr. Cole, the school chaplain, the Rev. Wm. L. McEwan and Bishop Morris.

After the usual school service Dr. Hill read his eleventh annual report. Dr. Hill was followed by the Rev. Mr. Cole, who delivered the annual address. This was addressed particularly to the graduating class, and was full of instruction to young men about to take on the serious duties of life, and was listened to with marked attention by all members of the school.

Bishop Morris then made what he called a "short address" to the members of the school, saying that he had been admonished to be short. He told two or three instructive stories and drew a moral therefrom in his usual happy and forcible way. The following young gentlemen, Walter Alfred Holt, Pulaski Owen Seeley, Harry Donald Cowles, Richard E. Hurgren, Amory Holbrook Withington and John Harvey Scott, the first graduates of the school since the adoption of a graded course of study, were called to the altar rail, where Bishop Morris, as rector of the school, conferred the diplomas and pronounced the benediction.

Then came the distribution of prizes. The prize in drawing, a handsome marine scene, the work of Mr. N. Hagerup, the school artist, was awarded to Seth Catlin for the best piece of drawing. The rector's prize for deportment was awarded to Walter A. Holt, with honorable mention of Gustave Wikander and Eliot W. Ordway. Walter A. Holt also carried off the principal's prize for scholarship, having stood the highest in all of his studies for the year, ranking 9.70 on a scale of 10. The principal then read the names of the en highest in scholarship for the quarter ending June 11:

Walter A. Holt, Waiwai, W. T., 9.89.
Harry D. Cowles, Olympia, W. T., 9.76.
James B. Jackson, Pendleton, Or., 9.71.
Pulaski O. Seeley, Pomeroy, W. T., 9.70.
Harry Gilbert, Portland.
Orville M. Rankin, Portland.
Samuel Brooke, Mount Tabor.
The last three being a tie on 9.58.
A. H. Withington, Portland, 9.55.
Walter B. Beebe, Portland, 9.53.
Harold B. Fiske, Portland, 9.45.

The following were perfect in conduct for the last quarter: Walter B. Beebe, Portland, Or.; John Cotter, Portland, Or.; Joseph Heilner, Baker City, Or.; Walter A. Holt, Waiwai, W. T.; Wm. H. Honeyman, Portland, Or.; Elden W. Moreland, Portland, Or.; Eliot W. Ordway, East Portland, Or.; Orville M. Rankin, Portland, Or.; Earl Stearns, Portland, Or.; Gustave Wikander, Ft. Stevens, Or.; Frank H. Irwin, Portland, Or.

The principal announced that because the hour was getting late that the commissioned officers might receive their commissions and the non-commissioned officers their warrants by applying at the school office. The exercises were closed by singing the Recessional, "Allelujah, Song of Gladness."

The friends of the pupils and the school then dispersed to meet again in the armory in the evening to witness the exhibition drill and the individual prize drill for a gold and a silver medal. A part of the extra squad, consisting of four sets of fours and two guides, were formed into line in the assembly room and marched into the armory, where they wheeled into double line and gave an exhibition of guard against cavalry. They then were formed into single line, opened ranks and went through the bayonet drill, finishing up with another guard against cavalry. These movements were executed with a snap and brilliancy that met with most hearty applause on every side. They certainly showed great proficiency, and the whole squad moved as one man. The precision was most remarkable.

The next thing in order was the individual drill for the medals. The judges were Captain J. A. Sladen, Colonel C. F. Beebe and Captain E. Everett. About fifty young men fell in at the sound of the bugle with a determination on their faces to do the best they could towards getting the badges. The squad performed first the march by fours, column of fours, forming twos, reforming fours, forming line, dressing, through all of which the men conducted themselves with admirable readiness and precision. Having given the judges an opportunity to form an impression of the general appearance in this way, several of the younger boys were asked to fall out and the squad was reformed in single rank for drilling in the manual. All the different movements in the manual were executed, and as a man was seen to make an error he was requested to fall out. In this way the size of the squad was gradually diminished, and when reduced to the number of about twelve, slowly grew smaller. Those men remaining were so thoroughly proficient that it was a matter of extreme difficulty for the judges to draw the line of distinction. One after another, however, fell out until two remained, Walter A. Holt and Wm. J. Church.

The contest between these two was spirited and resulted finally in the opinion of the judges in the decision that the former was entitled to the first prize, the latter taking the second. The decision of the judges was evidently approved by all the people present, if anything could be judged from the long continued applause that burst forth on the announcement of their decision.

A very pleasing feature of the occasion was the hearty cheers and congratulations of the defeated contestants. There was a marked improvement in the drill this year over that of last, and the work done reflects great credit upon the commandant.

MME. MODJESKA.

The Distinguished Actress Will Appear in Two of Her Most Delightful Impersonations.

It is hardly necessary to enlarge upon the delightful features of Mme. Modjeska's art to those who have seen her in her great impersonations. She stands to-day at the very head of her school of legitimate artists, and to see her once is to want to see her again.

In the two roles in which she has chosen to appear in Portland, Rosalind in "As You Like It," and Beatrice in "Much Ado About Nothing," she will have abundant opportunity to display her fine powers as a comedienne.

She will be supported by the entire Booth and Barrett company (with but two exceptions) and for the first performance, on Friday night, will give Shakespeare's charming pastoral play, "As You Like It," with the following cast:

Rosalind	Modjeska
Jaques	John A. Lane
Orlando de Bois	Lawrence Hanley
Oliver de Bois	William Stafford
Jacques de Bois	Walter Thomas
Duke Frederick	Beaumont Smith
Duke in exile	Charles Collins
Adam	Frederick Vroom
Touchstone	Owen Fawcett
Sylvius	Charles Koehler
William	George McCulls
Le Beau	Charles Campbell
Amiens	Henry Walters
Charles, the wrestler	Hugo Toland
Corin	Edward Beaumont
Celia	Miss Eleanor Tyndale
Audrey	Mrs. F. M. Bates
Phœbe	Miss Agnes Acres
Stage manager	Robert M. Eberle
Business manager	Theodore Bromley

The performances will be given at the Exposition building, and the sale of reserved seats begins this morning at Hoyt Bros.' music store.

A Cure for Chronic Diarrhœa.

Mrs. E. Gleason, of Salem, Dent county, Mo., writes as follows: "Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhœa Remedy cured me of chronic diarrhœa after years of standing, when it seemed I could live no longer. I was growing so weak. I had tried several doctors in this state and several in Iowa; but they could do nothing for me. I was finally induced to try a bottle of your medicine. After using three bottles of it I was entirely cured. I cannot say enough in its praise. I wish that every family knew the worth of it as I do, and I am sure they would never do without it." THE DOCTORS IN COUNCIL.

Sixteenth Annual Meeting of the Oregon State Medical Society.

First Day's Proceedings—Address of Welcome by Mayor DeLashmutt—Papers Read and Discussed—Members Admitted.

The first day's session of the sixteenth annual meeting of the Oregon State Medical Society opened in the Abington block yesterday morning at 11 o'clock with a large number of medicos from all parts of the state and Washington territory in attendance.

Vice-President D. S. C. Panton occupied the chair in the absence of President J. F. Page, who is absent in the East. Dr. Curtis C. Strong acted as secretary.

After making a few brief remarks of welcome appropriate to the occasion, Dr. Panton delivered a professional address on "Diabetes Mellitus."

The address on "A Thigh Amputation at Seventy-Seven years of Age for Senile Gangrene," which was to have been delivered by Dr. Page, was read by title and referred to the executive board.

A singular coincidence was discovered by one of the physicians in the fact that the Maine State Medical Society is in session at Portland, Me., June 11, 12 and 13, the same days selected by the Oregon society.

On motion the following congratulatory telegram was sent to the medical fraternity in session in the other Portland on the Atlantic coast.

Charles D. Smith, Secretary, Portland, Me.: Oregon Medical Society, in session in Portland, Sixteenth annual meeting sends fraternal congratulation to Maine association.

CURTIS C. STRONG, Secretary.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

The afternoon session was called to order promptly at 2 o'clock with a larger attendance than in the forenoon.

The chairman introduced Mayor Van B. DeLashmutt, who delivered the following:

ADDRESS OF WELCOME.

In performing the pleasant task of extending to you the freedom of the city and a hearty welcome, I but repay an outstanding obligation of long duration, for the very first one to welcome my coming into this world was a doctor, and probably the last one to smooth my way out of it will be another. (I believe your profession usually officiate at the extreme ends of man's career) which goes to prove that the first and the last thing a man thinks of in this life is his family physician. Your patrons are to be congratulated upon the fact that you are able to be present on this occasion and you are to be congratulated that your patrons are able to be left alone.

It is not difficult to foresee much good that may result from the combined and organized effort of members of your profession, not only in your local practice, but to the community at large. As our country becomes densely populated, and with the growth of towns and cities will arise complicated disorders and epidemics, to cope with which will demand your best efforts, and it is as a result of such gatherings as this that we may look for the greatest good. The prevention and the spread of contagious diseases through the exercise of proper sanitary laws, effective humanitarian management of the insane, and the way to successfully care for all whose misfortunes make them dependent on public bounty, are subjects of infinite importance, and in their practical workings susceptible of continuous improvement.

Our late unfortunate visitation of smallpox leads me to think that you might discuss the subject of the prevention and spread of contagious diseases with profit to yourselves, and the public as well, whereby we would have the benefit of your counsels and experience under similar circumstances.

The powers and duties of boards of health are necessarily so largely discretionary, that it would seem that to your profession we should look for advice as to how far we should go in enforcing quarantine regulations; in the destruction of property for the prevention of the spread of contagious disease; in restraining the liberties of those exposed to it; in a word, in the duty of the public for the care of the afflicted, and, in return, the duty of the afflicted for the welfare of the public. Questions of public health in the United States come under the common law and the statute laws, but in most states they are subject to the common law only. However, there is a national board of health and a quarantine law, established by act of congress, whose duties relate chiefly to nuisances. The power and activity of the boards of health throughout the United States are various, some state boards having power amounting to that of a court, while in others their power is scarcely more than advisory. It is through you that uniform laws and regulations are to be brought about. Wherever the necessity has arisen in aggravated cases, such as the yellow fever in the South, the state boards of health have acquired vigor and have elicited popular support.

On this coast there has been so little to direct one's attention to the subject that a board of health seems more like a misnomer than a living necessity. However, our late experience admonishes us to give the matter timely consideration, and hence it occurs to me that the State Medical Society should be in a semi-official connection with the sanitary boards. Evidently this would be the natural result, were it not for the unfortunate sectarian differences in medicine, which should at least be so far adjusted as to unite on measures affecting the public health; and it is to be hoped you may be able to meet on mutual ground and pave the way for prompt and comprehensive action should the necessity arise.

Yours, gentlemen, is a most noble, most honorable calling. Not confined in your intercourse with humanity to any one class, you have to meet and to deal most nearly with all classes and conditions of people, and it well behooves the medical profession to entertain broad and liberal views, extending that charity to co-laborers which ignores little differences of sentiment or of opinion, making it your constant aim to labor as one man, and of one mind, for the alleviation of suffering humanity and for the benefit of your fellow men—always, of course, being governed by a proper ethical standard of what is honorable, just and right among your associates.

Again, gentlemen on behalf of the city of Portland, I extend to you a hearty welcome, and trust your stay among us will prove both pleasant and beneficial.

The address was heartily received, and at its conclusion Mayor DeLashmutt received a vote of thanks from the society.

Dr. W. H. Saylor, representing the medical society of Portland, then delivered an address of welcome supplementary to the remarks made by the mayor. He extended to the visiting physicians the right hand of fellowship of the Portland medical fraternity, and welcomed them to the deliberations of the society.

Following the address of Dr. Saylor, three papers were read on medical subjects. The first paper was read by Mrs. L. M. H. King, M. D., on "Attention to Little Things in Normal Labor."

W. E. Carll, M. D. of Oregon City, read an essay on "Sciatic Neuralgia," and J. F. Calbreath, M. D., of McMinnville, discussed the "Removal of Uterine Fibroids." The latter two papers in particular were fully discussed.

MORE MEMBERS ADMITTED.

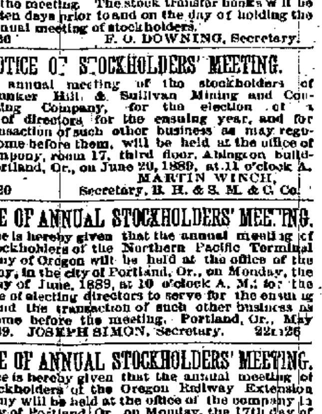

The applications for membership received during the morning session were acted upon favorably, and the following physicians were admitted into the State Medical Society: M. F. Honan, La Grande; J. S. McElroy, Portland; William Kelly, Portland; J. D. W. Haines, North Yamhill; Miss L. V. Hampton, Portland; G. M. Boswell, Colfax; J. M. Pruett, Pendleton; J. D. Fenton, Portland; C. W. Cornelius, Portland; J. M. P. Chalmers, Portland; T. C. Humphrey, LaCamas; B. M. Ciples, East Portland; F. Cauthorn, Portland; D. Walker, Portland; Miss Helen J. Price, Portland; Edw. Deidricks, Portland.

The attendance yesterday was much larger than was ever had on the first day's session of any previous meeting. Physicians were in attendance from all parts of Oregon and Washington territory, and the subjects were discussed in a manner showing that considerable time had been spent investigating the many problems ever confronting the profession.

The indications are that the remaining days of the meeting will be fully as interesting as the first. The officers of the society and resident physicians are congratulating themselves on the large attendance and the great interest manifested in the proceedings.

Mothers and Children Everywhere bless the Cuticura Remedies

WHEN SIX MONTHS OLD, the left hand of our little grandchild began to swell, and had every appearance of a large boil. We poulticed it, but all to no purpose. About five months after, it became a running sore. Soon other sores formed. He then had two of them on each hand, and as his blood became more and more impure it took less time for them to break out. A sore came on the chin, beneath the under lip, which was very offensive. His head was one solid scab, discharging a great deal. This was his condition at twenty-two months old, when I undertook the care of him, his mother having died when he was a little more than a year old, of consumption (scrofula, of course). He could walk a little, but could not get up if he fell down, and could not move when in bed, having no use of his hands. I immediately commenced with the CUTICURA REMEDIES, using all freely. One sore after another healed, a bony matter forming in each one of these five deep ones just before healing, which would finally grow loose, and were taken out; then they would heal rapidly. One of these ugly bone formations I preserved. After taking a dozen and a half bottles he was completely cured, and is now, at the age of six years, a strong and healthy child. MAY 9, 1885. MRS. E. S. DRIGGS, 612 E. Clay St., Bloomington, Ill.

SEPT. 13, 1888.—No return of disease to date. E. S. D.

I have been afflicted for a great many years with bad blood, which has caused me to have sores on my body. My hands were in a solid sore for over a year. I had tried almost everything I could hear of, but had given up all hopes of ever being cured, when I saw the advertisement of the CUTICURA REMEDIES. I used one box of CUTICURA, one bottle of RESOLVENT, and one cake of SOAP, and am now able to do all my own work. MRS. FANNIE STEWART, Staunton, Ind.

I have used the CUTICURA REMEDIES successfully for my baby, who was afflicted with eczema, and had such intense itching that he got no rest day or night; but after I had used two boxes, the skin began to peel off and get clear and soft. The itching is gone and my baby is cured, and is now a healthy, rosy-cheeked boy. MARY KELLERMANN, Beloit, Kan.

Your CUTICURA REMEDIES did wonderful things for me. They cured my skin disease, which has been of five years' standing, after hundreds of dollars had been spent in trying to cure it. Nothing did me any good until I commenced the use of the CUTICURA REMEDIES. Our house will never be without them. MRS. ROSA KELLY, Rockwell City, Calhoun Co., Ia.

Cuticura Remedies.

CUTICURA, the great skin cure, instantly allays the most agonizing itching and inflammation, clears the skin and scalp of every trace of disease, heals ulcers and sores, removes crusts and scales, and restores the hair. CUTICURA SOAP, the greatest of skin beautifiers, is indispensable in treating skin diseases and baby humors. It produces the whitest, clearest skin and softest hands, free from pimple, spot, or blemish. CUTICURA RESOLVENT, the new blood purifier, cleanses the blood of all impurities and poisonous elements, and thus removes the CAUSE. Hence the CUTICURA REMEDIES are the only infallible curatives for every form of skin, scalp, and blood diseases, from pimples to scrofula.

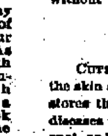

CUTICURA REMEDIES are sold by druggists and chemists throughout the world. Price: CUTICURA, 50 cents per box; CUTICURA SOAP, 25 cents; CUTICURA RESOLVENT, $1.00 per bottle. Prepared by POTTER DRUG AND CHEMICAL CORPORATION, BOSTON, MASS.

DAYTON, W. T., NOTES.

General Items of Interest, Together With Interesting News of a Personal Nature.

DAYTON, W. T., June 9.

The all-absorbing topic on the street now is the terrible calamity that befell Johnstown and Seattle. ... and more especially Allen C. Mason, of Tacoma, are loudly praised for their prompt action and generosity in sending immediate aid to the sufferers of Seattle. Portland's action in ... the Fourth of July contributions to the ... is highly commended, and her example ... followed by this city. On the day following the fire Mr. M. A. Baker and A. Oppenheimer succeeded in collecting over $200 for the Seattle sufferers.

The district court has adjourned, and there was little business transacted. ... Walter A. Wood, tried for ..., was acquitted.

Next Tuesday the Walla Walla college base ball ... will cross bats with the Columbias, of this county. A lively time is expected, as both are good teams. Dr. E. Barris has donated a silver cup for the winning club.

E. Rayan was fined $15 and costs for assault and battery. Not being able to pay the fine he was set to work on the street, but while the officer's back was turned he skipped, and has not as yet returned.

Dr. M. Pietryck, of this city, has published a letter over his own signature in the Chronicle to the fact that a public park is needed.

At the annual meeting of stockholders of Columbia County Agricultural Association, the following officers were elected: President, W. H. Kuhn; vice-president, ... Romaine, secretary, J. A. Kel...; treasurer, ... H. Hosler.

Henry Hunter has returned from Spokane Falls where he had been on business.

Miss M. E. Jefferson left for Portland last Sunday on a visit.

A great many Dayton people went to Waitsburg during the week to attend the soldiers' reunion.

J. W. Stearns and wife, formerly of this place, but now of Walla Walla, spent last Sunday in this place.

Lars Nillson has purchased W. M. Dumdi's residence.

Colonel W. A. George, an attorney, well known through the Walla Walla valley, has located in Dayton.

E. H. Wolf has been elected representative to attend the grand lodge of A. O. U. W., which convenes in Portland the second Wednesday in July.

Hon. M. M. Godman leaves for California on this morning's train to be absent a short time.

E. M. Washburn and wife have been in the city a short time visiting their daughter, Mrs. A. M. Mahaffey.

The following officers of Patit lodge have been elected to fill office for the next six months: H. ... Pringle, N. G.; F. L. Waite, V. G.; George Orshard, secretary; D. B. Kimball, trustee.

Last Thursday a little son of T. J. Taylor fell from his horse and sustained slight injuries.

Mrs. J. S. Windell, of Seattle, is visiting relatives in the city.

Judge W. H. H. Fonts, after a short visit to The Dalles, has returned home.

Mrs. Mary Harford spent a few days of last week in Dayton visiting her brother, L. E. Harris.

... Ellis, formerly of Dayton, but now of Spokane Falls, spent a few days in the city visiting friends last week.

Work is progressing favorably on the sewer.

THE HAND OF LABOR.

A Regular Meeting of the Assembly of Federated Trades.

A regular meeting of the Assembly of Federated Trades was held Monday evening.

An invitation from the Fourth of July committee inviting the unions affiliated with the Federated Trades to parade on the Fourth was laid over till next meeting.

H. C. Hinken reported that working cards had been printed and were ready for delivery.

The Bakers' union reported that the Oregon Bakery company had broken their agreement, and asked the assembly to sustain the boycott placed on the German bakery.

The Millmen's union reported that they were on a strike for nine hours' work.

A motion to sustain the bakers in their boycott was carried unanimously.

A motion was made that each delegate make an effort to raise money for the Seattle and Johnstown sufferers. Adjourned.

Five Hours and Ten Minutes.

To the Editor Oregonian—To settle a dispute, will you kindly answer the following question: What was the fastest time made between Portland and Seattle by rail? NEMO.

Answer.—An inquiry at the Northern Pacific ticket office gave the following result: Fastest time was made June 6th, the day of the Seattle fire, the run being made in 5 hours and ten minutes.

We have found no remedy for malaria, so reliable and safe as Ayer's Ague Cure. Taken according to directions, it never fails.

MARKETS BY TELEGRAPH.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.

NEW YORK, June 11.—Stocks to-day were quiet and firm for most of the list but in spots were decidedly active and very strong, and among such shares marked advances were scored as the result of to-day's operations. Trusts were the least active, but exhibited the same buoyancy, and sugar reached the highest point yet attained in the rise, the rumors in regard to it taking the shape that there was a large amount of undivided cash in the treasury of the company. Towards noon the market drifted into dullness, and some recession from the prices of the first hour was made, but after that time there was renewed buying on a large scale in coalers, and Jersey Central rapidly advanced to 112, the highest price known in that stock for years. There were the usual realizations in the last hour, but the strength of the market was renewed, and the close was active, and about the highest prices of the day. Delaware & Hudson rose 3¾, Jersey Central 3¼, Lackawanna 2, and Colorado Coal 1⅝. Government bonds have been dull and steady.

EIGHT THOUS_ND DOLLARS.

This Amount Was Sent to the Seattle Sufferers Last Night.

More to Follow—Portland Has Raised $16,000 For the Victims of Fire and Flood—The Johnstown Fund.

The appended letter which is self-explanatory, was mailed last evening:

PORTLAND, Or., June 11, 1889.

Hon. J. R. Lewis, Chairman Relief Committee, Seattle, W. T.—Dear Sir:—Enclosed please find certificate of deposit in your favor $8,000 in part of the relief fund sent by our citizens to aid you in the work of relief and the care of the needy in your city. The amount will be increased in the near future and we hope to send you all your wants may require or your wishes may demand. Sympathizing with you most heartily, we are

Very Truly Yours, CHAS. H. DODD,
Chairman Portland Relief Committee.

The following dispatch was also sent:

PORTLAND, June 11, 1889.

To Hon. J. R. Lewis, Chairman Relief Committee, Seattle, W. T.: We send you draft for eight thousand dollars by this mail. More to follow.

CHAS. H. DODD,
Chairman Relief Committee.

WORTHY OF EMULATION.

The collectors in one of the districts in wandering about the city yesterday looking for likely places to contribute, came upon a very neat little candy store. The lady in whose charge it seemed to be was in a back room, and a bright little boy came to the counter and asked "What do you want?" The committee asked for the manager of the store.

"My mamma is the manager, but she ain't got nothing, but I am a telephone messenger and earn a little every day. You want money for Seattle, don't you? I'll give you all I've got—but it's only two bits; but don't you think it will keep some little boy from being hungry? Oh, do let me give it!"

The committee was reluctant to take the child's last "quarter," but he persisted so, following them clear across the street, that they took the 25 cents with tears in their eyes. The earnestness with which the manly little fellow pressed his mite on them brought the tears to their eyes in abundance.

THE REAL SITUATION AT SEATTLE.

Mayor DeLashmutt received last evening the following dispatch, that has been issued on a circular, and which gives a correct statement of the real situation at Seattle:

SEATTLE, June 11, 1889.

Hon. Van B. DeLashmutt, Mayor, Portland, Or.: Referring to my telegram of the 8th, our relief committee has made a careful canvass of the situation. We are feeding several thousand, and many are without houses or tents. We are in liberal supply of food and blankets. Work is commencing, and within a week all labor will receive employment.

Restaurants in tents are springing up. Within a week we will reduce the number to be fed at public tables to, say, one or two thousand; but, for some months we will have to supply many families with tents and provisions. Many thousands of dollars will be required to tide over the needy. As soon as employment is offered, we will cease to feed the idle. System is coming out of chaos. Permanent relief rooms and labor bureau have been organized.

Our people are hopeful, buoyed with kind words and proffered aid on all sides. Demands, meritorious, are now commencing for money and household articles, and we now, on careful review, are satisfied that we can well and charitably use what funds you may spare us.

Our relief committee is ex-Governor Ferry, ex-Mayor Leary, G. N. Medlem, G. Davies, and self as chairman.

J. R. LEWIS,
Chairman Relief Committee.

RECAPITULATION.

The committee has expended for provisions, blankets, tents, etc., for Seattle	$2 180
Certificate of deposit sent Seattle	8 000
Raised for Johnstown, including THE OREGONIAN fund	4 600
Funds on hand for Seattle	1 800
Total amount collected	$16 000

The committee will continue the canvass to-day.

By an inadvertent typographical error in yesterday's report of the subscribers to the Seattle relief fund, Snell, Heitshu & Woodard's subscription was made to read $100. It should have been $400. They were the most liberal firm to subscribe.

FOR THE SEATTLE SUFFERERS.

Rev. Batemen delivered a lecture at the First Baptist church yesterday evening under the auspices of the Young People's Society of the church, for the benefit of the Seattle sufferers. Twenty-two dollars and fifty cents was realized, and the money will be sent to Seattle this morning.

GRAND MATINEE BENEFIT.

Manager J. P. Howe has tendered the use of New Park theater Friday afternoon, and a grand matinee performance will be given in aid of the Seattle sufferers. Thirty members of Cort's standard theatrical-variety company have kindly volunteered their services, and will appear.

The following well-known artists will appear during the performance: Beatly and Bently, Durrell twin brothers, Wayne and Evans, three Franklins, the Gottlobs, Hanson, the Tudors, Gardner and Bernard, James Tenbrooke, W. J. Kelly, Coyne brothers, Alice Hamilton, Lillie Morris, Eddie Sutton, Bob Slavin, Haley and Flynn, Ramza and Arno, McEvoy and Rogers, and others.

An excellent bill will be rendered which will be in every respect worthy of patronage. Everybody has volunteered, so that the entire gross proceeds will be sent to Seattle. As the object is a most worthy one, a crowded house may be confidently expected.

THE CHARITY EXCURSION.

The news from Johnstown seems only to reveal more pressing needs, and we urge our readers to remember the moonlight excursion that leaves the Ash street wharf this evening on the steamer Bonita, the proceeds of which are to be sent to Johnstown. Those who have not yet secured tickets will find them on sale at the wharf. The price is $1 each. Ladies are requested furnish cakes, and those on the Portland side may be left at Dresser's grocery store, Jefferson and Third street. While those on the East side may be left with Hall Bros., on Fourth street near N.

The following programme will be rendered on the Bonita this evening for the entertainment of the excursionists:

Messrs. E. V. Millard and W. M. Wilder of Portland, tenor duett, words and music composed by them for the occasion; Miss Hamilton, piano solo; Miss Nellie Rogers, recitation; Miss Davey, solo; East Portland Glee Club, song; Mr. W. M. Wilder, piano solo; Miss Clayson, solo; Eva and Elva Johnson, duet. Others are expected to take part in the entertainment.

All the charitably inclined will have an opportunity to aid the Johnstown sufferers by patronizing the excursion this evening. The Bonita will leave the Ash street dock at 8:30, and Johnson's dock, East side, at 8:45.

LITTLE JOE WINS THE RACE.

He Wins Three Straight Heats From Lewis's Mare Susie S.

The Best Time Made Was 2:30¼—In One of the Heats Little Joe Ran an Eighth of a Mile—Foul Driving Charged.

The match trotting race, best three in five, mile heats, for $1000 a side, between A. T. Enos's brown gelding Little Joe and Alexander Lewis's chestnut mare Susie S., at City View Park yesterday afternoon, was too one sided to be interesting. Little Joe won hands down in three straight heats. It was the first race won by a favorite at the park this season.

About 150 persons saw the race. R. E. Bybee, Theodore Barr and T. F. Lynch were the judges and timers.

Pool selling was not very lively, still quite a respectable amount changed hands on the result. Little Joe was the favorite two to one. Susie S. was backed heavily at the odds by men who regarded such bets as good ones even if they lost.

One of the features of the race was the kicking of Frank Enos, Little Joe's driver and Alexander Lewis, the driver of Susie S. They began before the horses were sent away and did not finish until the last heat had been trotted. Mr. Lewis started the ball rolling by complaining to the judges that Little Joe's owner had not complied with the articles of the race in that the vehicle to which he was harnessed was not a road cart as agreed upon, Susie S. to be driven to a sulky. He held that the seat had been lowered and the cart transformed into a track cart, thus placing him at a disadvantage as to weight.

A long wait ensued pending the settlement of the dispute. Mr. Enos denied that the seat had been lowered. R. C. Smith, the owner of the cart, examined it and found that the seat had not been lowered, but the aprons had been raised. These facts being submitted to the judges they decided to permit Little Joe to be driven to the cart to which he was harnessed. It weighed forty pounds more than the sulky to which Susie S. was driven.

This difference being settled the horses were called up for the start. Susie S. drew the pole. They were going neck and neck when they jumped away from the post, but before they had gone far Little Joe was urged to the front and at the first turn he crossed Susie's path and took the post. From the grand stand it looked as if Mr. Enos had done some foul driving and half a dozen horsemen, who had an excellent view of the track, said the alteration in his position on the course was not justified by his lead over Susie S., and that it compelled Mr. Lewis to shorten his stride. At the eighth pole Susie broke and fell back four lengths. She broke again at the half-mile post but lost nothing by it, and between that point and the head of the straight she closed up a great deal of the gap of three lengths between her and Little Joe and gave him a hot race to the wire. She broke about fifty feet from home and passed under the wire on a run.

Mr. Lewis returned to the stand and called the attention of the judges to Mr. Enos's driving at the first turn. He cut him off and gave him no chance to drive. He hoped they would consider this in making their decision. The heat was awarded to Little Joe, and the drivers were cautioned to maintain their positions on the track unless far enough ahead to take the lead.

Time—First quarter, 0:41; half mile, 1:18½; three-quarters, 1:56¾; mile, 2:36½.

Both horses were now behaving badly. Susie S. was hopping around and Little Joe was headstrong and fractious. In scoring Enos found it difficult, if not dangerous, to turn him without the assistance of a man to guide him. The start being delayed, Lewis objected to the guiding of Little Joe, whereupon the judges told Enos that such practice was a violation of the rules and he desisted. The next time Little Joe turned suddenly and dashed down the track, and came within an ace of pitching Enos out of the cart. Little Joe led from the start. At the three-eighths post he was six or seven lengths in advance. Susie gained the rest of the way around and finished a length and a half behind.

Time—First quarter, 0:39; half-mile, 1:18; three-quarters, 1:56; mile, 2:32¼.

Little Joe had a slight advantage of the start in the third heat and at the eighth post was a length ahead. After rounding the half-mile post he broke and ran an eighth of a mile. Susie then headed him off and at the half-mile post was two lengths in the lead. Little Joe regained his feet and passed Susie at the five-eighths post and at the head of the straight he had a lead of five or six lengths. Susie broke coming down the stretch and he won easily.

Lewis called the attention of the judges to Little Joe's running between the quarter and three-eighths posts. He claimed further that Little Joe ran all the way down the straight. The heat was awarded to Little Joe.

Time—First quarter, 0:39; half-mile, 1:18½; three-quarters, 1:56¼; mile, 2:30¼.

TWO INQUESTS HELD YESTERDAY.

The Coroner's Jury Decide That Both Deaths Were Caused by Accidental Drowning.

The body of John Fitzmaurice, the young man who was drowned near the old city water works Monday evening, was recovered by Hugh Brady yesterday morning at 10 o'clock. As the water was not very deep at the place the grappling hooks brought the remains to the surface with little difficulty.

The coroner was notified and the body was taken to the morgue, where an inquest was held. The jury brought in a verdict finding that the deceased came to his death by accidental drowning.

As the parents of the young man reside in San Francisco the coroner is waiting for orders from them before any disposition of the remains will be made.

ANOTHER INQUEST.

The inquest on the body of the drowned Chinaman, that was fished out of the river at Weidler's mill by some messenger boys, was held at 8 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

Mr. W. Dunbar recognized the remains as those of John Ah Moy, who for ten months was employed as steward on his ship, the British bark Kitty.

Mr. Dunbar stated that the Chinaman's clothes were found on the barge about sixty feet from the ship last Friday morning, and in his opinion the deceased had tried to swim to the ship instead of using the small row boat which was left there for that purpose. The coroner's jury brought in a verdict in accordance with the testimony, and the body was interred in Lone Fir cemetery several hours later.

A HANDSOME SILKEN BANNER,

That is To Be Presented to the Indian War Veterans—Letter to Governor Moore.

VANCOUVER, W. T., June 11.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN.

The following is a copy of a letter that has been addressed to Governor Moore at Olympia, which is self-explanatory:

VANCOUVER, W. T., June 11.

To His Excellency the Governor of Washington Territory:

Colonel H. M. Chase writes me, under date of June 3, that he presents a silken banner to the Grand Encampment I. W. V. N. P. C., and has selected you to make the presentation speech.

The grand encampment holds its public exercises in connection with the Pioneers' Society in Portland, Or., on June 18, at which time and place we shall be glad to welcome you and receive at your hands our generous comrade's gift.

On behalf of the grand commander and comrades, yours truly,

M. R. HATHAWAY, Grand Adjutant.

PUSHING THE WORK.

The Rockford-Spokane Extension—Track Laying Cœur d'Alene Branch.

Mr. J. H. Smith, who has the contract, under Kilpatrick Bros. & Collins, for the road from Rockford to Spokane Falls, has already begun work and has several camps along the line. Track laying is going ahead rapidly on the Pleasant valley line, and a large force of Chinamen will be sent up at once, as it is intended to push the work and lay from two to three miles of track per day.

The road across the Cœur d'Alene reservation is progressing favorably, being nearly closed up, except in places along the river where the water is yet out. Gangs are employed at the rock work on the river, and track-laying will soon be begun.

EAST SIDE NEWS ITEMS.

The School Directors Elect a Corps of Teachers for the Ensuing Year.

Dr. Kummer Addresses the Graduates—Carpenter Heckman Stricken Blind—The Republican Convention To Be Held To-night.

The directors of school district No. 21 have elected the following teachers for the ensuing year. Professor W. A. Wetzell was reelected city superintendent.

Central School—R. F. Robinson, Mary E. Buxton, Ella A. Owens, Ella E. McBride, D. Esther Goodman, Mary F. Hamilton, Etta Bono, Anna E. Gray, Irene Powell, and Lizzie E. Ross.

Stephens Addition school—G. A. Adams, Lillie B. Davey, Maria F. Gantenbein, Anna B. Campbell, Elvenie Grenier and Eugenie Craig.

North Central—Francis E. Alford, Mills Hill, Katie B. Fredont, Anna Kennedy, Mrs. A. E. Sloan.

Miss Ida M. Gove was elected to a post in the North Central school, Miss Mary D. Donohue to a place in the Stephens school, and Miss Maggie Charleson was made supernumerary.

DR. KUMMER ADDRESSES THE GRADUATES.

The address of Rev. Alfred Kummer, pastor of the Taylor street M. E. church of Portland, to the graduates of the public schools in the Baptist church last evening was interesting and instructive. His subject was "The Fruits of the High Schools." He demonstrated that it is economy for a city to maintain a well-regulated high school as it induces culture, refinement, mental and physical, promotes better citizenship, and places within the reach of all means of higher education.

The song rendered by the East Portland glee club before the lecture added much to the interest.

The evening graduating exercises will be held in the Presbyterian church. City Superintendent Wetzell will deliver a lecture, setting forth how the East Portland schools are conducted, the methods employed and the results attained.

REPAIRS TO PUBLIC PROPERTY.

The repairs to Pioneer engine house, ordered by the council some time ago, are now being made. New doors are being put in and a new floor has been placed on that portion of the room on which the engine stands. The improvements were needed very much.

According to the instruction of the city council the chief of the fire department is empowered to go ahead and have the damaged hose repaired, and thereby increase the amount of available hose in the department.

ACTION DELAYED.

No action was taken by the council Monday evening on the ordinance for the improvement of Fifth street, from K to Ellsworth, as it had not been decided whether there would be a horse car line or an electric road on Fifth street. There is some probability that the Waverly line will run from N street, on Fifth, to Ellsworth, and thence eastward. Action was deferred until the definite settlement of the matter.

BLIND AND DESTITUTE.

A carpenter named Heckman, who arrived from Kansas several months ago, has become totally blind and is unable to work. He has a family in Kansas and desires to be either sent to them or have them come here, but has not the means to pay for his transportation. A lady has been collecting money for his relief. He has two sons who would be able to support him were they here.

VESSEL SEARCHED.

Marshal Morgan yesterday searched the ship at Victoria dock to ascertain if any of the sailors had committed the depredations in McMillen's addition, reported last Saturday. None of the stolen articles were found on the vessel.

RETIRING COUNCILMEN.

The councilmen whose terms will expire July 1 are: First ward, I. B. Crosier; Second ward, Ross Merrick; Third ward, C. N. Rankin; Fourth ward, William Halfpenny.

SET FOR HEARING.

The case of Robert Boone, of the Half-Way house, was yesterday set for hearing in Justice Mayo's court this forenoon.

MOVING THE HOUSES.

Some of the houses built in the middle of the streets, in Holladay's addition, are being moved, and the others will be taken out of the way shortly.

THE BRIDGE TO BE REPLANKED.

The Portland & Vancouver Railroad Company will soon replank and rebrace the Fourth street bridge.

REPUBLICAN CONVENTION.

The republican city convention will be held this evening in the council chamber.

A PROGRESSIVE CITY.

The Town of Grant's Pass the Seat of Several New and Important Enterprises.

The advantages of a land buyer's excursion, such as was inaugurated by the enterprising firm of J. T. Flynn & Co. a few days ago can scarcely be overestimated, as it rarely ever fails to result in the enlistment of new capital, and that is what every town in Oregon needs. There is not a town in the state but what affords a good opportunity for the investment of money, either in lands or industrial pursuits, and the only wonder is that some effort in this direction has not been made before. The Grant's Pass excursionists remained upon the ground but one day, it is true, but it seems was long enough to convince some of Portland's capitalists that it was a good place for investment, and the result is that several new enterprises are to be started at once, among which are a national bank, furniture factory, pump factory, broom factory, fruit and vegetable cannery, a wholesale liquor house and a new hotel, to cost in the neighborhood of $12,000. In addition to the above, Dr. F. A. Moyer, city physician of Portland, intends to commence work on his new sanitarium at that point, within a few weeks. The site selected and purchased by Dr. Moyer during his recent visit, is one of the most picturesque spots in Southern Oregon. The tract, upon which a large force of men is at work clearing, is situated on the west bank of the Rogue river, just opposite the city and commands an unbroken view of that crystal stream for a distance of twenty miles. The situation is one of the most delightful imaginable, and the doctor intends to make his new sanitarium one of the handsomest and most complete institutions on the Pacific coast. Mr. Flynn is now arranging for a similar excursion from San Francisco, and in all probability will run another from this city to Grant's Pass and other Southern Oregon towns, some time in July.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

ABSOLUTELY PURE.

For quick raising, the Royal Baking Powder is superior to all other leavening agents. It is absolutely pure and wholesome and of the highest leavening power. It is always uniform in strength and quality and never fails to make light, sweet, most palatable and nutritive food. Bread, biscuits, muffins, cake, etc., raised with Royal Baking Powder may be eaten hot without distressing results to the most delicate digestive organs. It will keep in any climate without deterioration.

Prof. H. A. Mott, U. S. Government Chemist, after examining officially the principal baking powders of the country, reported:

"The Royal Baking Powder is absolutely pure, for I have so found it in many tests made both for that company and the United States Government.

"Because of the facilities that company have for obtaining perfectly pure cream of tartar, and for other reasons dependent upon the proper proportions of the same, and the method of its preparation, the Royal Baking Powder is undoubtedly the purest and most reliable baking powder offered to the public.
